Declares Three Billion Budget Cut Not Enough

House Appropriations Committee Head Says Seven Billion Should Be Cut Off

COMMITTEE MEETS IN CLOSED SESSION

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Republican Economy Chief Taber rejected GOP leadership plans today for a three billion dollar cut in President Truman's budget and set his sights for a record saving of seven billion dollars.

The New York congressman, who heads the house appropriations committee, said a three billion dollar cut in the 39.7 billion dollar budget for the 1949 fiscal year was "not enough."

Taber told reporters that he had reached no understanding with Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the senate's Republican policy committee, or other GOP leaders, on the size of the cut. He added: "I didn't agree to any such thing."

Three Billion Not Enough

"Three billion is not enough. I won't be satisfied with four billions. I'm sure we can cut five billions. I think we can cut six billions from the budget. We might even be able to cut seven billion."

That, however, depends on a number of things that we'll have to look into."

A joint house-senate budget committee is now attempting to agree by Feb. 15 on a ceiling on government expenditures for the new fiscal year, which begins July 1. A 20-member subcommittee headed by Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), senate appropriation committee chairman, and Taber is now working on the problem.

Pa Newc Observes

Just one week from today and the annual winter prognostication of the groundhog will be the order of the day.

Few motorists made any attempt to drive in the blizzard and deep snow conditions of Saturday afternoon and night without chains on their autos.

Pa Newc was informed by a Neshaanock Falls resident today that the thermometer registered 17 degrees below zero along the river at that place early this morning.

Weather conditions of Saturday night resulted in numerous events that had been scheduled for the night, being postponed. Few persons were out of their homes on Saturday night that didn't of necessity have to be out.

Motorists found many of the city streets and main highways of the county ploughed out, on Sunday, as forces of the city and county did excellent work in battling the unusual heavy snowfall of the week end.

In another column Owen Fox calls attention of citizens of the necessity of putting food out for the birds, and how to put the food out so that it will accomplish the greatest good. Birds are hard put to get any kind of food under weather conditions of the present time.

Shovelling snow was a large sized task at most residences in the city and surrounding community, over the week end. It has been many months since a snow of such depth has arrived here, and snow shovellers were still at work at some properties late Sunday afternoon.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:

Statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock Sunday morning are as follows:

Maximum temperature, 11.

Minimum temperature, 10 below zero.

Precipitation, .45 inches, snow-fall.

Evacuate Families Of U.S. Consular Officials In Jerusalem, Secretly

JERUSALEM, Jan. 26.—(INS)—All wives and children of United States consular officials were evacuated from Jerusalem today as new strife in Palestine claimed a toll of seven Arabs killed and eight wounded.

The consular dependents moved in a secret, heavily guarded convoy at dawn this morning to the port city of Haifa, where they will embark on the Saturnia for passage to the United States.

Shortly after they left Jerusalem, an empty Jewish shop in the heart of the commercial district was blown up, ripping open stone fronts and scattering metal and masonry over a wide area.

Wait Further Attacks

The evacuation took place as Palestine's Jews uneasily awaited further massed assaults by Arab fighters.

Even as the convoy proceeded to Haifa an Arab bus struck a mine and blew up on the Bethlehem-Jerusalem road, killing one and injuring eleven Arabs.

A Jewish flying column of trucks sped through the Arab Village of (Continued on Page Two)

Youth Faces Charges Of Abducting Young Girl Who Had Spurned Him

MERRILL, Mich. Jan. 26.—(INS)—A 20-year-old youth, described as a "love-sick kid who couldn't stand competition" faces a formal charge today of abducting the 17-year-old blonde beauty who had spurned him.

The youngster, William Mayer, is accused of kidnapping his ex-girl friend, attractive Joan Pelouquin, as she prepared for a date with a rival Saturday night.

Saginaw county Sheriff William A. Munroe said Mayer admitted tearfully and fawningly that he forced Miss Pelouquin to accompany him on an 18-hour tour of Southern Michigan.

The girl asserted that she persuaded him to abandon plans for a flight to California only by telling (Continued on Page Two)

New Monetary Program Will Be Given France

By ROBERT PARKER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 26.—The price of gold dropped sharply on the French black market today following devaluation of the franc as Premier Schuman prepared to present his monetary program to the National Assembly.

At the same time, the dollar moved up a few points to 330-116 francs above the new official price—and the pound was quoted at 840 francs—24 francs below the new official price.

In London gold prices zoomed sharply as Britons, fearful of the repercussions on the pound sterling of French devaluation, bought heavily.

Ministry of Finance official disclosed to International News Service that French citizens holding gold or hidden assets abroad will be fined one-fourth of their holdings if they attempt to convert them into francs at the new rate.

The officials said a clause containing this penalty is part of the bill legalizing free gold and currency markets which will be introduced into the National Assembly today.

This action was regarded as the government's reply to critics who charged that the free gold market measure is in effect an "amnesty" for those who hoarded gold.

Seeking Records

The Senate Investigating Committee, headed by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), was disclosed to be seeking the records of a St. Louis brokerage firm in the hope of tracking down the names of nine administration "insiders" said to have gambled in foodstuffs.

Steelton Woman Refuses ARC Post Due To Ill Health

Miss Helen Bolger Declines Secretary Job At Red Cross Chapter

Miss Helen Bolger, currently serving as secretary of the Steelton, Pa., Red Cross chapter, has notified the local branch that she will be unable to accept the post open here due to ill health.

This announcement was made Saturday at a meeting of the executive committee of the chapter by Dr. Wilbur Flannery, chairman.

Miss Bolger was to succeed Mrs. Joseph Gillespie, who retired in 1947 to take up residence in Ohio.

Dr. Flannery said that a number of applicants are being considered and a secretary will be named in the near future.

Plans for the forthcoming Red Cross fund drive were also discussed at the meeting and the naming of a chairman to head the effort was the main topic. This announcement will also be made public very soon, it was stated.

WATCHMAN DROWNS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Gilbert Speer, 40-year-old watchman, was drowned last night when he lost his footing on an icy dock and fell into the Ohio river.

KING GEORGE ON VISIT TO LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—King George VI made an emergency one-day visit to London today to hear a full report on the franc devaluation crisis and the British government's counter-measures.

The king, who had been vacationing at Sandringham, received Prime Minister Attlee at Buckingham palace.

Attlee had previously met for two hours with his cabinet at 10 Downing street.

Hospital Fund Workers Await Reports Tonight

Expect To Reach And Pass $750,000 Quota At Final Formal Report Session

New Castle and Lawrence County will learn tonight the results of what may be the biggest, and one of the most successful, community jobs ever tackled here.

The men and women who have devoted almost three months to the campaign for expansion of Jameson Memorial hospital will make their last formal reports at the closing meeting at 6:15 in The Castleton hotel.

Expect To Pass Goal

Indications are that the minimum goal of $750,000 will be reached tonight, and workers are hoping for an oversubscription.

Reports from all divisions are anticipated. Workers in the home and garage divisions and the business classification units, and chairmen in the industrial plants have been making a last-minute "clean-up" today.

With $736,725 reported at the third meeting on Friday, only $13,274 remained to be raised to meet the minimum goal of $750,000 by tonight.

Report 21 Dead In Earthquake

Many More Injured In Quake Devastated Areas Of Philippine Islands

MANILA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—At least 21 persons, including an Australian seaman, were listed today as killed and scores injured in an earthquake that devastated areas of the Central Philippines yesterday.

The shocks were described as the "most severe" in the history of the region. Hardest hit was Panay, while four mid-Philippine islands—Cebu, Negros, Marinduque and Leyte—were less seriously shaken.

Reports that were still incomplete due to disrupted communications said 14 dead had been counted on Panay. The Filipino constabulary commander reported 21 deaths had been thus far counted in the region affected by the quake.

RURAL SCHOOL NURSES START

Three Out Of Four Districts Will Be Covered By New County School Nurses Today

Starting with today, the county schools will be served by school nurses. County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling announced.

The nurses, met in the county superintendent's office this morning where they were briefed on their duties, after which they started to work.

One district, which centers around Wampum, will not be served for the present, as no applicant has appeared for this particular job, but all the other districts will be served.

The three nurses who will carry on the work are Mrs. Beadie Sloan, Mrs. Isabel Craig and Mrs. Eleanor Birt. They will aid the school doctors in their examinations and follow up suggestions for treatment which these examinations reveal.

In addition, they will check on illness of students and assist the families where needed.

KNEE IS INJURED

George D. Reid, aged 50 years, of 1415 Delaware avenue, suffered a fracture of the tip of the knee cap of the right leg, when his car was involved in a collision with another machine at Sheridan and Highland, Sunday evening at 7:15.

He was able to be removed to his home after treatment at the hospital, but will be unable to get about for some time.

Typical Scenes In Week-end Snow Here

—New Castle News Photos

No one will doubt that winter is really here after the weekend snow. Those who were here in 1944 claim that Saturday's scenes were much the same as those in December of that year, when the snow fall was 12 inches in less than 24 hours.

Above are two familiar scenes taken during the height of the storm Saturday afternoon. The upper photo was taken just below the News office on Mercer street, a few hours after the storm had reached its height, and shows the snow already piled up around the cars parked at the curb. In the lower photo a parking lot patron is sweeping the snow from his car late Saturday afternoon.

After 13 hours of steady snow fall the depth was recorded as between 13 and 17 inches.

Stassen To Enter Primary In Ohio

Taft Supporters Designate Decision As "Nuisance Threat"—"Mistake"

Says Taft

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen's decision to enter the Ohio presidential primary against that state's own candidate, Senator Robert A. Taft, struck Taft supporters today as a "nuisance threat" which might cost Stassen GOP backing elsewhere.

Taft himself called the former Minnesota governor's decision a "great mistake" and a violation of the usual practice among those interested in maintaining Republican party harmony.

He said "Stassen has no chance of success" in Ohio. Stassen, buttressed in his uphill fight by a windfall of the Eisenhower support, made it clear that he will not enter delegates in opposition to Ohio GOP organization officials. He carefully emphasized that he would consent to entering a delegate in Cincinnati, Taft's home town.

YOUNG SKIER HURT

David Fenton, Jr., aged 13 years, of 2 Katherine street, suffered a fracture of the left collarbone while skiing near West Leasure avenue extension, Sunday afternoon. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 1:15 p. m.

Holland Considers British Proposal For Defensive Union

PARIS, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Holland has definitely abandoned her traditional policy of neutrality in foreign affairs and is sympathetically considering the British proposal for an economic and defensive union of powers.

This historic declaration was made today in an exclusive statement by Baron Van Boetelaer Von Oosterhout, the Netherlands foreign minister, to International News Service.

Did You Feed The Birds? Snow Hampers Their Quest

Are you forgetting to feed the birds during the heavy snow?

If you have, remember that the extreme cold weather and deep snows are making it difficult for the birds in the city to find scraps of food.

City forester, Owen Penfield Fox stated that it will be necessary for residents of the city to throw food out to the birds, if we want to keep them from starving.

However, he warned do not throw scraps of bread out on the snow for bird food. The bread will soon become water-logged and turn sour, which is not good for the birds.

New Castle And County Dig Out Of 13 Inch Snow

Worst Snow Storm Of Several Years Develop Over Saturday And Week-End

TEMPERATURE ALSO DROPS BELOW ZERO

New Castle and Lawrence County residents had things quite well under control this afternoon, after a hectic weekend, which started Saturday with one of the heaviest falls of snow registered in recent years, and was followed by the two coldest days of the winter, temperatures of 11 below on Sunday and 15 below this morning, being recorded. According to the State Highway Department 13 inches of snow were piled up here.

The downfall started about 8 o'clock Saturday morning, and as the snow continued to fall steadily, street department, township and State Highway department crews went into action to keep streets and highways passable for motorists.

Many Stranded

Motorists who tried to negotiate the hills without chains found themselves stranded in a number of cases, and for a time Saturday, motor traffic on the hills was completely stalled until shoveling crews could get ashes onto the streets.

This was a continuous process throughout the day, as the snow covered the ashes under a new blanket within an hour or so, making their previous efforts useless.

Later, after the snow subsided, scrapers were brought into play, and the principal thoroughfares and streets were scraped off. State Highway crews, manning scrapers, covered the main highways of the county and today driving conditions on the main roads are good, it is reported.

Householders Have Battle

In the meantime, householders were having their own battle trying to keep their sidewalks cleared so that pedestrians could get about. Those who stayed with the job had to clear their walks a half-dozen times, they reported.

Around noon a brisk wind caused the snow to drift in spots, and had this continued, the task of snow removal would have been much more difficult. However, the breeze died away as the day wore on.

The snow started falling about 8

Gas Company Gives Warning

Natural Gas Users Must Conserve Supply—Situation Is Critical

Following warning on the critical gas situation issued this afternoon by the Manufacturer's Light and Heat Company serving natural gas to this area:

"If there is no moderation of temperature within the next 24 to 36 hours, and if additional gas conservation measures are not voluntarily adopted by natural gas users, the Manufacturer's Light and Heat Company fears it may have to shut-off all gas to certain local areas."

Industrial gas has been curtailed by the company. In addition, many (Continued on Page Two)

Will Make New Effort To Drop Plasma On Ship

Two Packages Dropped Sunday To Stricken Congressman Fall Into Sea

PANAMA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Army authorities in Panama prepared a B-17 "mercy plane" today for another attempt to drop plasma to the S. S. Ancon, on which Rep. J. Parnell Thomas has been stricken with severe internal hemorrhages.

Two packages of plasma were dropped last night, but both fell astern and could not be retrieved.

Will Dock Tonight

The vessel is expected to dock in Cristobal, Canal Zone, at about 6:30 p. m. EST.

Thomas, who is chairman of the house un-American activities committee, was en route to the Canal Zone to conduct an investigation of subversive activities.

The New Jersey Republican was stricken with an acute gastrointestinal hemorrhage yesterday, and latest reports described his condition as "serious but improved."

BOALSBURG, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Investigators today probed the smoldering ruins of Mountain Lodge, home of winter sports at Pennsylvania State College, following a fire which completely destroyed the two-story structure.

Arthur Mometer

Don't tell me old timer, of years that have gone, when snow was piled to the eaves, those stories were tall, too tall I would say, and ones that we never believed. But from here on old timer your stories are out, we have our own yarns about snow. It blocked off the driveway and piled on the porch, seventeen inches or so. The walks are like tunnels, the driveway the same, in closing I have this to say, we'll trade you snow stories and spot you a few and it's just 17 today.

Two Injured In Auto-Truck Collision Sunday

Verona, Pa. Family Auto Collides
With Transport Truck On Route
422 Sunday Afternoon

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, when the car in which they were riding was involved in an accident with a dealer's transport truck at the railroad tracks near Weingartner's, Route 422, Sunday at 12:45 p. m.

The injured are: Mrs. Viola Angle, 43, of R. D. 2, Verona, Pa., and daughter, Alba Angle, 15, same address. Mrs. Angle suffered an injured left shoulder, right hip and nose lacerations and is still confined in the New Castle hospital. The daughter, who suffered minor hand injuries and bruise burns was discharged later.

Van G. Angle, of Verona, husband, and another daughter, Audrey, 11 years, were also in the car, which was headed west, at the time of the collision. However, they were uninjured.

The driver of the dealer's transport truck, was John E. McFarlane, of 7640 South Sangamon street, Chicago, Ill. He was fined $10 by Alderman James C. Brice for failing to yield half of the highway. According to reports the accident occurred on the slippery road, the truck having more than its share of the highway, and collided with the auto. The truck was traveling east.

The injured persons were taken to the New Castle hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin, of 604 Independence street, Clairton, Pa., and Michael Palmer, 322 East Luton street, this city.

During Mrs. Angle's stay in the hospital, the other members of the family are staying at a local hotel.

HUNGARY SIGNS TWENTY YEAR PACT WITH RUMANIA

denouncing the western alliance proposed by British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin as an "imperialistic" measure sponsored by the United States.

Bevin proposed that Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg be invited to join the year old Dunkirk alliance between Britain and France. It was aimed at stopping Russian expansionism. Other countries are expected to be invited to adhere later.

The Hungary-Romania pact was believed among diplomats in Washington to be the first in a series among all the Russian satellites which finally will be bound to Moscow by other agreements.

The immediate purpose is regarded as binding the politics and economy of the satellites in with the policies of Moscow. In this respect it is believed aimed at the Marshall plan, which is designed to bring recovery to western Europe.

Skis Aid Plane Flights Sunday

New Castle Airport became a beehive of activity on Sunday, even though the heavy snowfall of the week end kept most folks indoors. The reason for the unusual activity was due to the fact that skis had been added to two of the Aronca planes and flights were being made from the more or less inactive airport.

Wilson Aviation reported that many flights were made by the planes. This is the first time this winter that use of the skis were permissible. Flights will be made by the planes on skis until the snow has melted.

ing him "if he crossed a state line with me, he could be executed for kidnapping under the Lindbergh law."

Miss Pelouquin said Mayer appeared at her door at 8 p. m. Saturday night and that she "slammed the door in his face."

She continued:

"I went with him two years ago, but about a year ago I tried to get rid of him. He kept coming back, and several times he struck me for seeing other boys. I was afraid of him."

The girl said she resumed dressing when she heard the back door shatter and fled into the bathroom. She continued:

"... He started breaking down that door, too, so I came out."

Miss Pelouquin related that her date, 23-year-old Robert Bigelow, arrived at that point, so she ran from the house.

Bigelow said he did not aid the girl because he feared Mayer was armed. Mayer and Miss Pelouquin left in the Pelouquin family car, and later, at the latter's tavern.

Miss Pelouquin said they picked up Mayer's own car at his home and proceeded to Detroit.

GAS COMPANY GIVES WARNING

schools, libraries, churches, bars, bakeries and restaurants have made important voluntary curtailments in their use of gas.

Further Steps Needed

"Further steps to save gas must be taken immediately if a serious shortage of gas for all users is to be averted."

"The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company is urging that room thermostats for gas-fired central heating equipment be kept below 70 degrees, that laundry work be postponed until temperatures moderate, hot water to be shut off and cracks around doors and windows be sealed to assure the minimum amount of gas is used for health and warmth."

"The gas company spokesman explained that as long as pressures in the pipelines were kept above a certain point, the gas could be moved. When demand greatly exceeded supply and there is not enough readily available gas to maintain a workable pressure, for general safety the gas company must close off certain lines for periods of time."

"We hope this will not be necessary," said the gas company representative. "Whole-hearted cooperation in this emergency is needed at once."

Industrial Union Rejects Wallace

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—(INS)

The Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council (CIO) today rejected a third party and Henry A. Wallace, independent candidate for President.

President Harry Boyer, of Reading, said that the union's action was in line with National CIO policy which supported the Marshall Plan, called for a Congress friendly to labor and opposed "any third party."

"We refuse to let our political strength be split by any third party," he asserted. "It is the only way to get practical results in the elections for the state legislature and Congress."

He characterized the Marshall aid to Europe plan as an extension of the Roosevelt good neighbor policy.

The PIUC will sponsor a registration drive as a prelude to "getting out the vote" at the primary election April 27, Boyer said.

Mrs. F. J. Kile Dies At Vandergrift Home

Mrs. Dolly Kile, widow of the late F. J. Kile, former resident of New Castle, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Orta K. Snyder, at Vandergrift, Pa., Sunday, at the age of 85 years.

Born, February 6, 1862 in Ashtabula county, Ohio, she resided with her husband in New Castle from 1920 to 1942. Mrs. Kile was a member of the First Methodist church of this city and the King's Daughter Bible class of the church. She was predeceased by her husband some 20 years ago.

Surviving are three sons, J. J. Kile, Toledo, Ohio; Leon A. Kile, Jefferson City, Mo.; Harry G. Kile, New Kensington and the daughter, Mrs. Orta Snyder with whom she lived. Seven grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Clarence Paine funeral home, Orwell, Ohio, with interment in the South cemetery, Orwell.

TO REMEMBER MAINE
READING—Reading will "remember the Maine" on Feb. 15, the 50th anniversary of the sinking of the American battleship, which precipitated the war with Spain in 1898.

The anchor of the Maine now rests in City Park where Vice Adm. James L. Kauffman, commandant of the fourth naval district, will lead commemorative ceremonies on the anniversary date, the Reading-Berks Bicentennial committee announced today.

The trogon is a tropical bird, found mostly in South America, with soft, full, brightly colored plumage. Some are found in Asia and a few in Africa.

U. S., Britain Linked With Ukraine Revolt By Soviet Official

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A high Soviet official today linked the United States and Britain to anti-Soviet rebellion in the Ukraine, and called for "ruthless" action to "uproot" it.

The official, Nikita S. Khrushchev, secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party, gave the first confirmation of reports of the rebellion in a speech commemorating the thirtieth anniversary of the Ukrainian Soviet Republic.

In a violent speech, quoted by Moscow radio, he demanded a "relentless struggle" to "uproot all vestiges" of the rebellion. Then he added that only "an insignificant number of Ukrainian Nations" are participating in it.

(The first report of the anti-Soviet outbreaks came in a Nanking dispatch from Hearst Correspondent Ray Richards, who learned of it from a Chinese official just returned from Russia.)

AMESER-KIRKWOOD CHURCH NUPTIALS

Christ Lutheran church was the scene of a pretty mid-winter wedding Saturday afternoon when at a candlelight ceremony solemnized at 4:30 o'clock, Miss Rose Elizabeth Ameser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ameser, of the Harlanburg road, and William J. Kirkwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkwood, of 506 Waldo street, exchanged nuptial vows.

Rev. H. M. Lobeck officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar embankment of white mums and roses, palms, ferns, and candelabra.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin trimmed with lace inserts, the skirt falling into a graceful train. Her heirloom lace veil fell from a headdress of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. She wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Randall Beck, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, wore a gown of pink chiffon with matching halo headpiece and carried yellow roses, and Mrs. David McKisick, of Baltimore, a cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore yellow chiffon with matching halo and carried Talisman roses.

Randall Beck served the groom as best man and ushers were John Ameser, brother of the bride, and Allan Leslie.

Soloist was William Richards, cousin of the groom, who sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Hilda Kramer, organist, played prelude and softly during the ceremony.

Immediately afterward a wedding dinner was served to more than 50 guests in the church dining room with Mrs. Carl Touch, of Gary, Ind., aunt of the bride, and Mrs. John Walter and Mrs. John Shuller as aides.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood left on a wedding trip to New York, N. Y., Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md. They will be at home after February 23 at 506 Waldo street, for the time being.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood are graduates of New Castle high school. She is employed at the Shenango Pottery and he by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Mr. Kirkwood is a veteran of four years' service in the Pacific area with the army during the war.

Rehearsal for the wedding took place in the church Friday evening.

BARRETT-FREDRICK WEDDING AT HOME

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrett, 503 South street, Jersey Shore, Pa., was the setting for the informal wedding of their daughter, Miss Helen Barrett, and Ralph R. Fredrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Fredrick, of 112 East Grant street, on Saturday, January 17.

Rev. C. Sornasen, pastor of the Jersey Shore Methodist church, officiated at the double ring ceremony performed by candlelight at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of the immediate families. Two large vases filled with American Beauty roses and candelabra at either side formed an improvised altar for the exchange of nuptial vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white crepe fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her accessories were white, her flowers an orchid corsage and she wore a single strand of pearls as her only jewelry.

Mrs. N. B. Barrett, the bride's sister-in-law, as matron of honor wore a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

George J. Brodbeck, Jr., served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Fredrick attended Edinboro College as an art student and before her marriage was an employee of the Claire Brown Shop here.

Mr. Fredrick served during the war with the U. S. Navy for three years and is now engaged in business in the Square Deal Garage.

The young couple are at home to friends in their newly furnished apartment at 116 East Grant street, this city.

From here Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Fredrick attended the wedding.

SHANER-THOMAS VOWS EXCHANGED

In the parsonage of the Second U. P. church, 216 East Laurel avenue, Friday evening in the presence of a gathering of several relatives and friends, Miss Katherine Shaner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaner of Plaingrove, and Wendell Richard Thomas, son of Mrs. Lawrence Porter of Sankey Lane, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. Calvin Rose.

The bride wore a suit of bright navy with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias and white roses, and carried an heirloom lace handkerchief.

As her attendant Miss Rebecca Moody of Youngstown wore a medium blue wool suit with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the bride and ten friends and relatives in the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Heckathorne, in Princeton.

A two-tiered wedding cake was a feature and Mrs. Walter Shaner and Mrs. Carl Shaner were aides.

Mrs. Thomas is employed at the Sno-Top Sandwich Shop and Mr. Thomas is employed at the Galant Cycle and Lock Service.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Youngstown and Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will take up residence at 447 Neshannock avenue.

FAREWELL GIVEN COLLEGE ENTRANT
As a farewell send-off for Jack Gordon, who will enter Grove City College on February 2, a group of friends and relatives were entertained in the home of Mrs. James Martin, Huron avenue, Saturday evening.

Games were a diversion during the evening and Jack was presented with a useful going away gift from the group.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Sina Minner, of Conneaut, O., Mrs. George Weitz and sons Tom and George Weitz, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Weitz aided the hostess in serving a lunch at the close of the evening.

Jack, who will enter Grove City as a freshman at mid-year, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harding S. Gordon, of 1203 East Washington street.

P.F.F. Club
Members of the P.F.F. club were entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Willard Belnap of Myer avenue, with a dinner served at 8:30 o'clock, followed by the playing of cards.

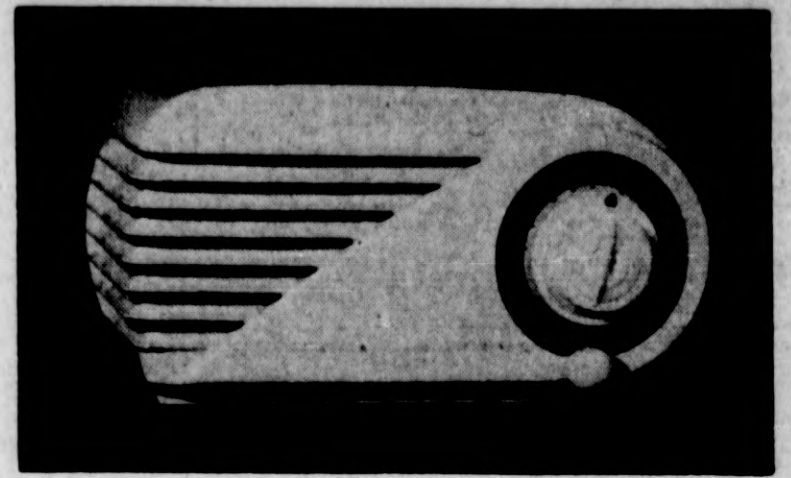

Prizes were awarded to: Mrs. Frank Haus, Mrs. Laura Kiefer and Mrs. Joseph Doone with Mrs. Harry Buckley capturing the door prize.

In two weeks, Mrs. Jessie Stenger of Highland avenue will receive the club.

Birth Announced
Word has been received of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Barcz of Wyandotte, Mich., on January 21 in the Wyandotte hospital. The baby has been named Gail Elaine.

Mrs. Barcz is the former Jean Skundor, of Brooklyn avenue, this city.

ABANDONING PARTISANSHIP

Senator Carl Hatch, Democrat, of New Mexico, has suggested that a truce be worked out in the Senate this campaign year, setting aside partisanship in the working out of the country's international and anti-inflation programs. He proposed that the Democratic and Republican policy groups in the Senate be merged into one "Policy Committee." He declared that the situation now facing the nation on the domestic and foreign fronts was too serious for partisanship.

There can be little questioning the high purpose of Senator Hatch and the crying need for setting aside partisanship at this time. Senator Hatch said that he realized the plan might not be realistic or practical politically, but that something ought to be worked out. No doubt the suggestion of a bi-partisan policy committee in the Senate is impractical, because it would not set aside the disagreement on policy in the individual statesmen's minds, and differences of opinion usually run along fundamental lines which are expressed in party principles.

But there is something else. If partisanship is to be set aside, the work of doing this could well begin at the White House. That it is needed at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue is abundantly shown in the President's recent message. There have been few newspapers or commentators who have not characterized this message as purely partisan. It is designed to appeal to the left-wingers, who are in danger of trailing off after Henry Wallace into a third party and are admittedly essential to Democratic political success in November. For instance, the President's suggestion of a $40-a-head tax reduction is too bluntly obvious to be anything else than a bid for votes. The aim clearly is to award to the group with the greatest number of votes an easily understood lump sum, charging it off against a group which has comparatively few votes.

We have heard from time to time, especially from New Dealers, suggestions for the abandonment of partisan politics in the interest of the public good. But in every instance the suggestion is that partisanship be abandoned in Congress. There have been few suggestions that we have less politics in the White House.

REDUCING COSTS

Many panaceas are being advanced for checking inflation. Most of them pick one particular group, and blame the whole spiral on it. Maybe it is labor, maybe manufacturers and jobbers, all of them accused of being greedy for higher wages or profits. Such reasonings are oversimplifications of a most tangled economic post-war situation.

For example, National Dry Goods Association officials, in convention in New York City, announced as typical of higher costs the increase in Washington, D. C., stores of 14 cents per retail transaction in 1947. They advocated time-saving tools and equipment for greater store efficiency and lowered costs. At a Material Handling Exposition and Conference in Cleveland, O., a consulting engineer from Battle Creek, Mich., said that higher per capita production and lowered labor costs through new machinery is the answer to inflation. He believed labor would welcome such installations because working conditions would be improved, accidents reduced and unskilled labor out with skilled labor in greater demand.

A Newark, N. J., warehouse and transportation executive was quoted in newspapers to the effect that transportation costs eat 59 per cent of the consumer's dollar, and industry and government must study how to reduce such costs.

In other words, industrialists of all sorts are concerned with soaring prices. Raised production, lowered manufacturing costs through greater labor efficiency by machine and man both are required to cure inflation.

BANNER MONTH FOR NLRB

With the National Labor Relations Board disposing of a record number of cases last month it is apparent that, as an NLRB official said, the Taft-Hartley Act is "beginning to roll."

During December, 1947, the Board handled 2046 cases, an all-time high and 49 percent more than in the previous month. Eighty-eight percent of the cases were petitions for elections, and more elections were conducted in December than in any earlier month. A total of 102,223 valid ballots were cast.

Despite prodigious efforts to keep abreast of the demands for its services, however, NLRB fell slightly behind last month, the backlog of cases awaiting determination rising from 5219 to 5833. Procedural changes designed to speed up its work are about to be put into effect.

The contention that the Taft-Hartley Act would wreck labor unions finds no confirmation in NLRB's report of its activities reflects the Philadelphia Inquirer. The Board is administering the new law efficiently, and unions willing to obey the law still can operate effectively.

The government food committee has ended the official eggless days. So now you can eat the eggs which you saved to be hatched into chickens which would eat the grain which you were trying to save by not eating the eggs.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

All doubts as to the determination of America and Britain to work together in all measures deemed necessary to halt establishment of "police states" throughout the world were removed today—and by a man whose life has been dedicated to the proletariat.

The declaration in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Clement Attlee assailing Communism must have been something of a surprise to the Kremlin's masters even though they have accused his government of "selling out" to Wall Street.

For Attlee always has been a British Laborite. He interlarded his early career as a lawyer with social settlement work in London's shabby East End.

And despite his Oxford education he always had been regarded with lifted eyebrows by Britain's die-hard Conservatives.

Tells Russia

Yet it was left to Attlee to tell Russia that it was very much mistaken in thinking that Britain ever would "go Communist."

His speech in behalf of the Bevin plan for a western European Peace Confederation was noteworthy for its scathing criticism of the Communist system.

He admitted that it might have a dynamic appeal for backward people who never knew anything better. But he was blistering in ridiculing the merest suggestion that the freed-loving millions of Britain and western Europe need any such indoctrination.

It will not be forgotten that when Winston Churchill was voted out of office after the war and a Laborite regime installed, the Soviet press was in ecstasies.

This was the sparkplug, as a matter of fact, for greatly multiplied Communist propaganda activity in western Europe. A Leftist swing became evident everywhere on the Continent.

Communists piled up huge gains in France and Italy, the trend spread to Conservative Scandinavia and for a while it seemed that Generalissimo Franco was seriously imperiled as head of the Spanish Fascist state.

Many things occurred to stem that tide before it overran all of Europe.

Important among them was the fact that except for some nationalization the Labor government in England showed that it was not so very different from its predecessors, at least as regards human rights and liberties.

Staunch Tories still charge that Attlee is seeking some sort of dictatorship but these have a somewhat hollow ring. The English home is still as inviolate as ever.

So I gave my little niece my blessings—not that she had asked for them—and I truly hope that she will live happily forever after. I didn't tell her anything about Mrs. Andree Vermeulen, of Dunquerque, France, the wife of a poor birth to her twenty-second child.

Nor did I mention Mrs. Arthur Kelly, of Belfast, Ireland, who had her fifth set of twins a few days ago and whose husband is a laborer on the County Docks.

Maybe Mrs. Vermeulen and Mrs. Kelly have never been sorry that they married so young and without thoughts of future or security.

Maybe it is better, anyway, that to youngsters LOVE (and, please, Mr. Typesetter, set the word LOVE in capital letters) is all that the dreamers claim it to be, all that youth dreams it to be—and all that it really is if it is the real thing.

And what is love, anyway? Come to think of it, after twenty-six years, I am still in love, and I hope that no matter how long you have been married you are, too.

How do you know?

In my Dictionary of Quotations compiled by H. L. Mencken, there are sixteen pages on the one subject of love—more than any other subject in this 1347-page book.

There are chapters on "Love and Hatred," "Love and Marriage," "Love Divine," "Love in General," "Love in Man and Woman," "Love, Its Beginnings," "Love, Its Course," "Love, Its Duration," "Love, Its Causes," "Love, Its Effects," "Love, Its Mutuality," "Love, Its Nature," and several others.

I thought it appropriate to look into the chapter "Love, Its Duration," because that, after all, is the true test of love.

And there I found a little something from Robert Burns' poem "A Red, Red Rose":

"I give it to you:
"As fair art thou, my bonny lass,
"So deep in love am I;
"And I will love thee still, my dear,
"Till a' the seas gang dry,
"Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear,
"And the rocks melt wi' the sun,
"I will love thee still, my dear,
"While the sand o' life shall run."

Are you in love?

From Me To You

By MESEALL

That friends, is what we would call an old-fashioned week-end snow, just about as much as anyone would want . . . temperature, just about as low as some could stand . . . colder than others really enjoyed, especially this morning . . . There will be many an argument the next 24 hours as to just what section of the county had the lowest mercury reading. At this writing we haven't heard very much . . . along the Neshannock here in town a couple of chaps said it was 12 below . . . at our place on the north side we read 8 below . . . But we are willing to bet that out East Brook Station way it was much lower.

Yesterday didn't warm up very much as you remember . . . in the heat of the day our thermometer raised to about 20 above . . . and then only for a short time . . . mostly it was down to 10 above . . . But in spite of that low reading a very peculiar thing happened. A large icicle formed on our house . . . clear at the top eave . . . and all day long and up until one o'clock this morning it continued to melt . . . not a slow drip but almost a continuous stream . . . It was about 12 inches from the house proper. Maybe some prognosticator could explain the principle of this melting when it should be freezing.

One important item that we would like to mention today . . . it too concerns the snow of Saturday and Sunday night . . . many inches fell . . . the wind blew and drifts were made . . . It was cold . . . in other words it wasn't a time when you really enjoyed being out in the car . . . But the situation here in New Castle wasn't too bad considering . . . And the reason it wasn't we think goes to the men who braved the cold, wind and snow to keep the streets open . . . The Street department . . . All day yesterday they worked too . . . using snow plows and other pieces of equipment to clear the snow away from the roadway. Yes, we feel mighty proud of the men who worked on the streets . . . and who today will continue to shovel and scrape . . . You who cleaned your own sidewalks and driveways know it's not the best sport in the world . . . we just can't say enough to show this department of the city how much we appreciate their efforts.

Looking At Life

By ERIC BRANDEN

"Oh, I'm so terribly, terribly in love."

That's what a nineteen-year-old niece of mine told me last night when she announced her engagement to a twenty-two-year old ex-G.I. who is making just about enough money to keep her in kitchen aprons and gingham dresses.

First I intended to give her a practical lecture on marriage, its responsibilities, its pitfalls. Then I changed my mind. What is the use talking about down-to-earth things to someone who is floating in the clouds?

What is the sense of mentioning grocery bills and dishwashing and floor-mopping to a girl to whom "nothing is so sweet in life as love's young dream?"

So I gave my little niece my blessings—not that she had asked for them—and I truly hope that she will live happily forever after. I didn't tell her anything about Mrs. Andree Vermeulen, of Dunquerque, France, the wife of a poor birth to her twenty-second child.

An Old Friend Of Yours, Joe!

Real Blowup May Develop Over Wallace's Candidacy

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—A real blowup may develop when the CIO executive board and its Political Action Committee meets in Washington late this month to draft the CIO national policy.

Henry Wallace's presidential candidacy is the reason.

Wallace's third party move has widened the breach between right-wing and left-wing within the CIO. Some of the left-wing CIO affiliates—such as the longshoremen, the smelter and packing house workers—favor his candidacy.

However, right-wing CIO groups are dead set against the former vice president and many have pulled out of the American Labor Party because that organization endorsed him.

CIO President Phil Murray has already rapped the knuckles of both pro-Wallace and anti-Wallace groups for announcing their positions. He demanded they keep silent until the national policy of the CIO is laid down. Drafting that policy incidentally, may provide some fireworks.

Some observers see a new threat to the Marshall Plan in a development in Havana that has, for the most part, gone unnoticed. There the nations which drafted the International Trade Charter at Geneva are seeking an agreement to reduce tariff barriers.

Quietly and without publicity in the United States, some of the smaller powers which are not self-sufficient have been obstinately opposing a suggested ban on export and import quotas. These nations are led by Argentina and include such distant states as Pakistan.

There have been hints that, if the President in his State of the Union message, urged Congress to enact legislation creating the new job. And Taft is the author of a bill that would do just that, which is now before the Senate labor committee.

Inside information has it, however, that nothing will be done about the bill this session, despite its backing by both parties.

The reason: If it were approved within the next few months, President Truman would select the first secretary of welfare. Republicans feel sure he would pick a Democrat.

Therefore, GOP policy is to wait until next year when they fervently hope a Republican will be in the White House to set up the new office.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

CHURCH AND HEALTH

The church which spends all the time on the soul and forgets health of body is a lost good.

Spending all the time on health of the body is not good either.

Christianity takes care of the body, the mind and the soul.

Poverty and disease and dirt and crime and wrong doing are undesirable. Education and religion help both mind and body.

For a sick man sometimes food is more important than medicine.

Sometimes the health of a community is influenced more by the business men and the preachers than by the doctors.

Worry about his family's welfare may interfere with a sick man's recovery.

If your enemy is hungry, feed him.

It is expensive and difficult. He may not thank you. We may find that it is the best way after all.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

The Army is embarrassed to learn that it drafted a Scotsman for active duty. . . . Not only did Uncle Sam make the pants too long but too many.

This fellow was drafted in England where he was suspected of being American because he was not British.

It was cold at the time and everyone talked with a "brrr."

No one would believe he was a Scotsman until warm weather set in and he was the only man in his company still talking with a "Brrrrr."

Then it was too late to let him out because his uniform was still in good condition and there were orders against wasting government issue.

The only defense the government can offer is contributory negligence. . . . He should have been wearing his kilt.

Otherwise we owe him three years he spent fighting the right war for the wrong people.

They Say

LONDON — Winston Churchill urging an effort be made to reach "a lasting settlement" with Soviet Russia: "There are very grave dangers of letting everything pile up until something happens."

BOSTON — President Compton, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, urges universal military training: " . . . If another war comes it is very inconceivable that the United States will be immune for two years to train its troops again."

BOSTON — President Cavanaugh of Notre Dame University, blames irresponsible moral leadership for United Nations disagreements: "American institutions of higher learning must help to produce morally responsible leaders, who can be trusted to foster the welfare of mankind."

Great Money Making Scheme

By PAUL GALICCO

I have a great little scheme for making some money which I would like to discuss with you this morning. As far as I can see it is foolproof and cannot miss, which means that soon I will be a millionaire and will be able to write you some inside, intimate pieces on what THAT feels like.

It goes something like this: I start off by calling up a manufacturer of goods of some kind or other, something the manufacturer makes exclusively and people will always want to buy. When I get him on the telephone I say:

"Look here, old chap, I want you to ship me a carload of those wonderful aluminum-mounted, hand-embossed krebbers you make exclusively and which are so popular."

Guy's are always interested in doing business, so he says, "Thanks for the order. That will be $2,500, F. O. B. C. O. D. Indianapolis—freight and wrapping extra."

"Can't Pay You That"

Now I speak: "Oh, I say, old man. Unfortunately, I can't pay you that. You see, you've figured in your overhead, the patent royalties, your machine tools and the cost of labor. I can only pay you the intrinsic value of the krebber. Let's see. You've got about eight cents' worth of iron, a half a cent's worth of wood and a cent and a half worth of aluminum in each krebber, but of course, it's cheaper because you buy it wholesale. I'll send you a check for $45.00."

Of course, the guy sets up a holler. Where does he get off making a book deal like that? But I've got the answer to that one because I say, "Look, you don't understand. Those krebbers have your name stamped on them. Every time I sell one for $14.98, I tell people YOU made it. Look at the advertising you get."

Naturally, he goes for that, so now I have $2,500 worth of krebbers which I will sell for $10,000 and which only cost me $45. But wait, I'm not finished yet with all the angles to this lalalooska.

Only One Thing Missing

Now I go to a guy who runs a store that sells spingles, klumpes, diggitators, razzhiggers and like articles and I say to him, "See here, you've got a great store here selling a lot of things people want. There's only one thing missing from your shelves, and that's krebbers. Well, I've got a carload of the finest krebbers you ever laid your eyes on. You pay me $500 a week and I'll come and sell my krebbers in your store. People come to your point and are pleased and satisfied because they find krebbers there. Of course, you'll want to get your money back so you dig up a guy and charge him $1,000 a week to put up a sign on my counter—'THESE KREBBERS SOLD UNDER THE SPONSORSHIP OF J. ARCHIBALD STENGLHAFN'. Of course, I think we ought to split the profit on that."

"Proposition Put Up To Me"

You think that's nutty? Well, so help me if that isn't practically the proposition put up to me on the telephone last week by a young man whose name I didn't catch, who said he represented the American Broadcasting Co., except in this instance, I was the krebber manufacturer.

He said he was getting up a radio program of discussions between famous fathers and sons. He could only pay the minimum AFRA rate of $40. I was to give time for an interview. A script would be written and edited. My son and I would then rehearse it and finally cut a record of it over the microphone. And what would happen then? Oh, well, after they had enough records cut, they hoped to sell the show. No, it wasn't on the air yet. No, it wasn't sponsored yet. And who was to compensate me for my time and effort—the goods off my shelf? Oh, said the young man sweetly, "you'd get your name mentioned on the air."

Radio, you're wonderful. I love you.

Bible Thought

They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth forever. As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth even forever. For the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.—Psalm 125: 1, 2, 3.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WORK OF BUREAUCRATS

As a sort of afterthought atonement to the poultry industry, which feels that poultryless-eggless Thursday kept many of their potential customers from buying chickens, the government announces that it is going to buy up enough hens in the lower egg-producing brackets to save thirty million bushels of feed in about eleven months. The fowl will be bought on a basis of "supporting" the market price for poultry.

Most of the poultry which has been sold for several weeks past, according to reports from growers, has not been going to consumers' markets but to cold storage. As a result, the amount in storage is the greatest the country has ever known. Now the government is going to step in and buy up more and more warehouses full. It will take taxpayers' money from the treasury to pay for them. By next Summer, in all probability, the same thing will happen to the vast accumulated stores of government chickens that happened to the huge accumulated surpluses of potatoes and eggs—they will be destroyed.

In the meantime, poultry growers will have to abide by the government's "culling" orders, regardless of their best judgment, or be denied the benefits of the "support" price. There can be no such thing as free enterprise under any system of subsidies.

ROOM IN ORDER

The Christmas cards are put away. Once more the mantel shelf seems bare.

Without the Holiday display Of love and friendship glowing there.

Had I my way with such affairs, The cards had longer stayed on view. But women with their household cares Resent the dusting they must do.

All women want a tidy place. All things in order. Christmas gone, They'd leave of it no single trace For those who call to look upon.

Again the mantel shelf is clear, Since man must do as women say. And all that came my heart to cheer Is in the attic stored away.

State Police Say:

In a recent automobile accident in Troop "D" area, a driver whose senses were dulled by fatigue was involved in an accident in which several people were seriously injured. The accident could have been prevented had the sleepy driver taken the precaution of pulling off the highway and resting. Remember, the sleepy driver can be just as dangerous as the intoxicated or drinking driver.

Trieste, in Europe, is listed as a "free city." In view of news reports from that town the proper designation would seem to be "free-for-all"—Arizona Republic.

Hints On Etiquette

Every woman who wears a hat at a theater, concert or movie that is high in the crown, wide of brim, or has bows, feathers or flowers that stick up, should take it off without being asked.

COPENHAGEN — Mrs. Ellen Hary, of Fredensberg, organizes a campaign in Denmark against longer skirts for women: "They are a waste of material in hard times and furthermore they unbecomingly hide well-shape legs."

In Death Of Baby

Billy Edwards, 24, Of Indianapolis,
Held By British Police;
Find Body In Woods

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—British police in Trowbridge Wiltshire, today held ex-GI Billy Burke Edwards, 24, of Indianapolis, Ind., on charges of murdering his infant daughter Brenda.

Human remains — believed to have been the child's body—have been found in a woods near South-wick, in England's channel coast.
The remains will be examined by a pathologist.

Police gave this story regarding Edwards' background.

He married an English girl in the village of Southwick during the war. The couple went to the United States, but later returned to England.

Born Last April
The baby girl, Brenda, was born to Mrs. Edwards in Trowbridge, last April, and taken subsequently to the home of the girl's parents in Southwick.

During the summer the child disappeared, when, it was alleged, the parents claimed they had sent the infant to relatives in the Devonshire town of Torquay.

Edwards and his wife then went to Birmingham to live.

Following police investigations,
Edward was arrested in Birmingham last Friday, charged with murdering the child sometime between
May 7 and Oct. 31, 1947.

Savoia Auxiliary Planning Party

Final plans were made by the Casa Savoia auxiliary on Sunday afternoon for their carnival party scheduled for February 10 at 8
p. m., with Mrs. Harry Ross as chairman.

Mrs. Floyd Semione, president, was in charge of the meeting. The society president, John Fulvi, was introduced and spoke to the group.

New members were initiated and the meeting adjourned until February 22.

Santa Fe, N. M., was entered on
Aug. 18, 1846, by Stephen Watts
Keamy, who claimed it for the United States.

George Jr. Republic Choir Sings Here

In spite of the snow and cold weather a fine group of people turned out Sunday evening at First Methodist church to hear the sixty-nine-voice George Junior Republic choir, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude B. McCandless, Arthur Prasse, superintendent of the school, spoke about the work that is now being done there.

He explained how the boys had erected a new gymnasium with limited funds by purchasing some of the abandoned buildings from the former Camp Reynolds. The boys at George Junior took the buildings apart, loaded them on trucks, moved them to Grove City, and then rebuilt them into a fine new recreation building. Part of

Man Who Wounded Two On Train Is Held For Hearing

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS).—Kenneth Short, 25, of Cleveland, O., was held in the Beaver county jail today charged with felonious assault with intent to kill following his shooting fray last Friday on a Pittsburgh-bound train near Baden, Pa.

Short completely surprised passengers on the train when he whipped out a gun and started shooting. One shot hit Mrs. Mary Rifci, 29, a Cleveland housewife, and another struck Ira M. Crider of Freedom, Pa., the train's flagman, as he attempted to wrest the gun from Short's hand.

A third shot apparently ricocheted off the floor and struck Short in the abdomen, police said.

Officers reported finding a flattened 25-caliber slug under the skin of Short's lower abdomen.

Both Mrs. Rifci and Crider were reported in a satisfactory condition today at the Sewickley Valley hospital.

Meanwhile, Cleveland police said they had investigated and found no basis of fact in Short's boast to another passenger that he had killed a man before boarding the train in Cleveland.

Diesel Locomotive Dangles Over Street

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—(INS).—A four-unit diesel passenger train locomotive was "re-railroaded" today following its escapade over the end of the tracks and through an 18-inch concrete wall where one-third of it dangled 20 feet in the air over a street.

The locomotive had just hauled the Santa Fe's El Capitan into Los Angeles from Chicago Sunday when its brakes apparently failed at a slow speed after it had been uncoupled and was maneuvering for a roundhouse checkup.

Three high-tension power lines of 33,000 volts were stretched tightly against the engine's nose, they were insulated and did not break. Engineer F. A. Hurst stayed in the cab until the locomotive halted, but Fireman Frank E. Rittenhouse jumped out.

Last Week For Farm Aid Claims

Lawrence county farmers who are participating in the conservation program were warned today by Dorris M. Fulkman, chairman of the Production Marketing Association, that this week is the last week in which they may file claims for conservation payments.

The conservation office in the court house annex will be open each day except Saturday from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Farmers are warned they must bring their lime slips with them when presenting claims.

During World War II, foreign investments in the United States increased about $5,000,000,000.

Manufacturers Oppose Marshall As Aid Dictator

National Association of Manufacturers Outline Support For Aid Program With Reservations

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The National Association of Manufacturers endorsed the "objectives" of the Marshall plan Saturday but indicated that the program be conditioned to operate as "cold economics rather than as cold war."

Curtis E. Calder, chairman of the Electric Bond & Share Co., laid down for the state foreign relations committee 10 new "conditions" the name proposed for addition to the foreign aid legislation. Calder said they included "no economic aid" for western Europe if:

1. Confiscatory taxes are imposed upon U. S. exports—an apparent slap at Britain's tax on U. S. movies.
2. Property of U. S. nationals has been confiscated or expropriated without "prompt, adequate and effective compensation."
3. Recipient countries launch nationalization programs or projects which "have the effect of destroying or impairing private competitive enterprise."

Oppose Marshall Control

The NAM also opposed Secretary of State Marshall's demand for control over all matters relating to foreign policy in the ERP program.

It held that ERP has the best chance of success "if it operates as cold economics rather than cold war" and said the program should be "kept a business concern."

Meanwhile, Sen. Jenner (R) Ind., charged that Marshall is trying to "frighten" the American people into support for ERP by withholding until last week secret documents showing that Russia and Hitler Germany had agreed to split up Europe for themselves.

Jenner noted that the documents released by the state department had been in possession of the American and British governments since before April 1945. He said both governments agreed to publish the secret agreements in June 1946 and added:

"We have information which it was agreed should have been told the American people in June 1946, being made public 18 months later, at a time when the administration sees a growing opposition to the adoption of a costly European recovery or so-called Marshall plan."

Jenner charged that this information was not used by U. S. officials, including the secretary of state and the president, through five international conferences since capture of the secret documents. Jenner contended the information "could have forced Russia to come to terms immediately and effect a world peace."

The NAM spokesman was the first of four witnesses before the senate committee. Others scheduled included Prof. Calvin B. Hoover of Duke university, a member of the Harriman committee; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Paul Hoffman, chairman of the committee for economic development, president of the Studebaker Corp. and another Harriman committee-man.

Calder said the NAM favors the recovery program but declined to say whether it supports the six billion 800 million dollars asked for its first 15 months. He said this will depend upon administration, whether a single chief or a board heads the project and upon the "safeguarding conditions" which may be provided.

Scotland Yard Is Hunting Out Black Market Operators

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The London Evening Star reported today that black market deals in British government surplus stores now are being investigated in Switzerland by Scotland Yard's fraud squad.

The black market deals are said to involve some 14 million dollars and include army tanks, guns, millions of yards of barbed wire, wireless equipment and vast amounts of scrap material.

Lend-Lease Included

The British Ministry of Supply officially admitted that some of the material included lend-lease supplies.

The deals reported under investigation concern property allegedly obtained from war surplus stores in Belgium, Luxembourg and France which were transported to Switzerland and sold at huge profit.

A number of English and foreigners are supposedly are involved. One dealer reportedly purchased a hotel abroad from his profits. Another suspect an Englishman, owns a plane and lives in London's fashionable West End.

The animals found in the Belgian Congo, Africa, are elephants, hippopotamus, buffalo, antelope, chimpanzee and crocodile. The slaughter of elephants is prohibited.

Snowslide Kills Colorado Skier, Another Missing

Third Skier Narrowly Escapes Death As Snowslide Buries Them

GEORGETOWN, Colo., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Rescuers from the ski patrol were prepared to begin search at daybreak today for the body of a skier missing in a snowslide which took the life of his friend near the top of the 12,000-foot Loveland pass, 15 miles west of Georgetown.

One man was killed, another was presumed dead, and a third narrowly escaped death when an avalanche roared down on the Switchback ski trail.

On Last Run

William Marquis, 37-year-old Denver cabinet maker, was believed buried under tons of snow which tumbled down on the three skiers as they started their "last run of the day."

The avalanche killed Everett Dierks, 32, of Denver. The third man of the trio, Jack Elliott of Denver, skiing between his friends, was swept almost 200 yards by the mass of snow. He fought free and summoned help.

Treasure Hunters Active In Florida

Off-Told Tales Of Pirate Gold Buried In Lagoons And Marshes Revived

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Modern gold rush appeared on in Florida today as enterprising treasure hunters began to get serious about the numerous, off-told tales of buried pirate loot reportedly lying in lagoons and marshes and off the coast of the peninsula state.

The latest person to announce plans for a treasure hunt is Mrs. Bula Edmundson Croker, widow of a one-time Tammany Hall chief. Mrs. Croker said at West Palm Beach that she possesses two maps pegging the location of more than 75 million dollars in Buccaneer gold buried in a Bayou near Pensacola.

Contractor Busy

She said she has written to contractor J. P. Conway, who is currently busy on another gold-digging project—the quest for 40 million dollars' worth of treasure under the main street of Green Cove Springs, near Jacksonville. As soon as Conway completes his work for 80-year-old George Mobley, Mrs. Croker hopes he will take on her offer.

Mrs. Croker, widow of Richard C. Croker, of New York, said her treasure maps plot the trove in two separate spots some 40 miles from Pensacola, lying in from 25 to 35 feet of water in a bayou.

She insisted the maps are the real thing.

Senator Martin Calls On Truman To Cut Administration

Pennsylvania Senator Makes Address At Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 26.—(INS)—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R) Pa., today assailed "swollen bureaucracy" in the federal government and suggested that President Truman "carve fatty chunks of the hide of the over-loaded administration which surrounds him."

Any economies ordered by the president would only foreshadow sharp cutbacks.

He predicted a Republican victory in the presidential election and said a GOP congress would effect economies during his speech to the Women's Republican club of Kanawha County in Charleston.

Martin pointed out that in early new deal years the nation's budget ran around five and six billion dollars while that much is needed today to pay the interest on the public debt each year.

Calls For Reductions

He called for reduced taxes, sound money, curtailed governmental economies and what he called "the economy of plenty" to increase production at lower unit cost to purchasers.

"Taxes should be reduced in a manner that will stimulate expansion of productive enterprise," Martin asserted. "We should restore the integrity of the dollar by stopping immediately the further issuance of printing press money. The American dollar must be a sound dollar."

He said the public debt must be reduced systematically, individual savings encouraged and management-labor relations improved and government activity in food markets ended.

"There must be better management-labor cooperation to check the mounting price spiral," Martin declared. "This calls for a determined effort by management to hold the price line. It calls for labor to hold the line against another and another round of wages increases. One cannot succeed without the other. It calls, in short, for the finest kind of Americanism on both sides of the industrial street."

"We should not damage our domestic economy and increase the cost of living by exporting basic materials that are in short supply," he asserted.

"Government competition in the food markets should be ended. We should curb those excessive price supports and subsidies which are economically unsound. The people pay for these supports and subsidies with higher taxes at one end and higher prices at the other."

Methodist Youth Enjoy Hike Sunday

It took a good big snow fall to encourage the Youth Fellowship of First Methodist church to have a Sunday evening hike. Consequently they gathered at the parsonage on Glenmore blvd., and then went for a hike that took them down the old paper mill road and up over the hill from Neshannock to the foot of Moody avenue and then back to the parsonage, where Mrs. J. A. Gaiser and Mrs. C. T. Phillips were waiting with sandwiches and cocoa.

Clarence Coates and Rev. J. A. Gaiser set the pace for the hike and the young people agreed that it was plenty fast and that these two men seemed to have an abundance of pep. It was good to see 25 young people covered with snow, rosy cheeks, sparkling eyes, and eager appetites as they returned from their hike.

Various youth groups of First Methodist church will begin next week to use the new recreation room which has been built and newly-redecorated by the Elkton class.

Youth Gather At First Presbyterian

Various Westminster Fellowships of Shenango Presbytery gathered Sunday evening for a rally in the First Presbyterian church. Roy Meehan, moderator of Westminster Fellowship council, presided.

Members of the Youth Fellowships of Mt. Hermon and Princeton Memorial Presbyterian churches conducted a worship period, when Lois White spoke on the theme, "Jesus Christ Is Lord." Rev. Vernon Smith, field director of the board of Christian education for the synod of Pennsylvania, discussed the subject, "Christian Choices We Have Today."

Following the program, a social hour was enjoyed in the church dining room, where lunch was served by the host congregation. The group will have another rally at Westfield church in April on the same day that Shenango Presbyterial meets.

Bay City, Mich., was settled in 1836, incorporated as a village in 1859, and 1863 chartered as a city.

Airlines Clerks Continue Strike

MIAMI, Jan. 26.—(INS)—National Airlines clerks remained away from their jobs today after voting unanimously yesterday to reject a company offer to settle their strike.

Robert Cooper, president of the Machinists union, meanwhile announced that the 233 mechanics will observe the clerks' picket lines.

Company officials said that 60 per cent of the aircraft inspection staff went through picket lines last night to return to work. All flights were said to be operating, with no interruptions in schedules. Martin Braun, president of the Office and Clerical Workers union, which has no contract with the company, said "the only thing that will send the clerks back to work is a contract or the agreement of the company to arbitrate a contract."

National officials said the strike was effective only in Miami, Jacksonville and Newark, and predicted many strikers, off duty since Friday, would return to their jobs today.

Approximately 85 per cent of the United States corn crop goes to market in the form of meat. Livestock are grown on more than 5,000,000 farms, and provide the largest selling source of cash income for the United States farmer.

Take Police Out Of Politics, Says State Director

Would Protect Local Police
From Job Losses, Following New Elections

By SUZANNE FLICK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—A campaign to keep local police out of politics is being waged by the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association.

The drive, to be carried to the General Assembly during the 1948 session, was prompted by a series of shakeups in local police forces following municipal elections last November.

Lawmakers will be asked to strengthen the Civil Service system of Pennsylvania's 46 third class cities so that police captains, chiefs and other law enforcement directors will not be subjected to dictates of politicians not removed without just cause, according to the association.

Would Tighten Law

Capt. Samuel Siegle, director, claimed tightening of the Civil Service law would go far toward advancing police service in the commonwealth.

"It stands to reason that a police chief can't do a good job haunted by the fear of losing his job every four years when the electorate votes on changing the administration," he explained.

Job protection presently is provided for police in the lower grades in third class cities and metropolitan areas and the entire forces in boroughs and townships, Siegle said.

"We want all policemen out of politics," he declared.

Police forces had suffered setbacks due to political juggling with top jobs, according to Siegle.

Examples of the practice which disrupts police service are recent upheavals at York, Erie, Lebanon and Allentown which followed the inauguration of new mayors, he said.

Seek Higher Wages

Siegle said the organization also is considering endorsing a plan for obtaining higher salaries for police through a minimum wage law. Procedure has not crystallized, he added.

The average pay range throughout the state is $2400-$8500.

"Citizens expect police to dress nicely, live in respectable neighborhoods and hold prominent places in the community," Siegle declared. "They can't live up to expectations and raise families on their salaries."

Seek New Authority

A third proposal was authority to arrest traffic law violators on view, he said.

The privilege currently is limited to state police except in cases involving drunken drivers. Local police can only issue summons to reckless operators of motor vehicles, Siegle pointed out.

"With the increase in the volume of traffic, we have to do something to counteract the loss of life and traffic damage," he asserted.

Confessed Slayer Being Questioned In Mattson Case

Seek To Connect Roscoe Lee Hayton, 62, With Murder Of Child In 1936

SEATTLE, Jan. 26.—(INS)—An eleven year-old kidnaping and murder that shocked the nation came to the forefront today in an investigation of the homicidal activities of Roscoe Lee Hayton, 62, confessed "bluebeard" killer of two of his three wives.

The FBI moved to question Hayton concerning the 1937 kidnaping-slaying of Charles Mattson, 10, abducted from his Tacoma, Wash., home Dec. 27, 1936. A ransom note was left at the house and the boy's body was discovered six miles south of Everett, Wash., on Jan. 11, 1937.

FBI Enters Case

Before questioning Hayton, FBI agents conferred with King county sheriff's officers in Seattle as the mystery of the confessed wife-slayer's past action grew steadily greater.

The FBI still has agents throughout the country searching for the kidnap-slayer.

Hayton was questioned about the case yesterday by Chief of King county Detectives Adam Lyskowski, who noted a resemblance between Hayton and the drawing made in 1937 of the kidnaper's features from descriptions obtained by the FBI.

Lyskowski declined immediately to disclose any results of preliminary question of Hayton in connection with the Mattson case.

Meantime, Hayton was returned to the Seattle home in which he admitted strangling to death his third wife, Mrs. Ellen Buckingham Coyle Hayton, 46, who was killed Jan. 5.

Points Out Grave

The gaunt Seattle contractor, who has admitted slaying two wives whom he met through matrimonial agencies, led officers to the roadside grave of wife No. 3 near Mount Vernon, Wash., last Thursday.

Late Saturday, after leading officers to Panther Lake, southwest of Bremerton, where the boy of his second wife was exhumed, Hayton confessed that he shot her to death.

His second wife, Sarah Alice Lane Hayton, 48, was slain in August, 1945.

'Blue Baby' Dies At Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Two-year-old Elaine Bell, Cleveland "blue baby" died Saturday as her parents and police fought a losing battle to save her life.

The helpless baby, fourth child of Elizabeth and Michael Bell and fourth to die, failed to respond to rescue efforts after losing consciousness this morning.

Efforts fail.

The father rubbed his daughter's legs in an effort to restore circulation while the mother blew her own breath into Elaine's throat. Police used four tanks of oxygen.

The baby girl's death came unexpectedly. Surgeons at Cleveland Lakeside hospital only Wednesday said they hoped to perform a delicate operation within four weeks in hopes of correcting the heart condition to permit sufficient flow of blood to the lungs.

EAT MORE POULTRY

Eat, can and freeze more poultry—that is what the government is asking us to do. Headliners for menu planning are the mature heavy weight hens.

Chicken is relatively cheap compared to other protein foods—and is a nutritious food. It offers a good source of riboflavin, iron, thiamine, and body-building protein. No matter how the bird is fixed, it will be economical because it can make appetites return appearance to the table. When buying poultry, remember that the bigger the bird, the larger the proportion of meat to bone. Chicken can be prepared and served in a variety of ways. A good-sized family will get for a five or six pound hen served this way.

Simmer the bird until it is tender. This can be done in a stewing kettle or the process hastened by use of the pressure cooker. If cooked with moisture the meat will be more tender and will give plenty of flavorful broth for gravy. The bird can be stewed or steamed, whole and then stuffed and browned in the oven. To steam the bird whole, put it on a rack in a kettle half full of lightly salted water, cover it and simmer three or four hours until it is tender. Turn it once in a while to keep it cooking evenly.

To cook a hen in a shorter amount of time, steam it under pressure in the pressure cooker. While the bird is steaming keep the breast up and have the water only up to the level of the rack. In your pressure saucepan, it may take as little as 5 or 40 minutes at 10 pounds, pressure to cook the hen. If you let it cook in the broth the meat will be juicier.

A bird cooked this way may be stuffed with mashed potatoes, and seasoned with a little onion or celery or with a favorite dressing. Brush the skin with fat, sprinkle with salt and pepper and place on a rack in a pan with the breast up and brown it in a moderate oven at about 350 degrees Fahrenheit.

Cook the broth down for gravy. If desired, add tomatoes to the broth for extra flavor and color. Always skim the fat off the top before you thicken the broth for gravy.

With the exception of a narrow shelf along the Venezuelan coast and a bank that reaches from Jamaica to Honduras and Nicaragua, the entire basin of the Caribbean sea exceeds 6,000 feet in depth, and a large portion is more than 12,000 feet. In fact, extreme depths exceeding 16,000 feet have been found off the south coast of Cuba and between Haiti and Venezuela.

Industrial Mishaps For November Lower

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Industrial injuries in Pennsylvania during November, 1947 dropped more than one-fifth compared with October, it was reported today by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Injuries to workers totaled 9,250 during November a reduction of 21.7 per cent over October, when 11,808 persons were hurt, according to the department.

Ninety-one fatalities were attributed to industrial accidents in November in contrast to 93 in October, the agency added.

The manufacturing industry reported 40.0 per cent and non-manufacturing 59.6 per cent of all accidents. Non-manufacturing industries contributed 65.7 per cent of all fatal mishaps, according to the department.

More than half the crimes committed in Indiana in a surveyed six-month period were by persons under the age of 30.

Driver Of Truck Has Heart Attack And Dies At Wheel

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Four persons were injured and a truck driver was dead of a heart attack today in a series of week-end traffic accidents in Pittsburgh.

Patrick O'Rourke, 27, of East Pittsburgh, was charged with violating the traffic laws after his car allegedly went through a red light and crashed into another car which in turn piled into a third auto, police reported.

Suffers Heart Attack
Lewis Harris, a truck driver, was pronounced dead after he suffered a heart attack at the wheel of the truck he was driving and the truck plunged over a hillside, according to police.

Another accident on Saturday in which a Pennsylvania freight train struck a snow plow, seriously injured two county employees, Orville W. Hall, 59, of North Bessemer, and George Mattiak, 59, of Renton.

George Pandie, 23, was injured when his trailer-truck was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio train also on Saturday.

Ray Wettig, 19, was reported suffering head lacerations and a skull fracture after he was said to have walked into the side of a street car.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

"Women continually complain of what they call the diminishing chivalry of men, yet women's habit of thanking men for such courtesies is diminishing in even greater proportion. I seldom give my seat to a woman in a street car, these days, and get thanked for my trouble and discomfort."

Answer: I have often heard this complaint. I really think that masculine manners have reached the degree of carelessness where many women are really so surprised at such courtesies that they wonder whether they are offered as a prelude to a pick-up. In any event, the woman who does not thank any stranger friskily or sedate, old or young, male or female, black or white, for such a courtesy is committing a serious breach of good taste. There is a certain dignity in proper acknowledgments of this category that plainly indicates to even the most progressive "masher" that further conversation would be resented. If proper courtesy has been taught in the home during Question: Who cuts the bride's cake at a wedding reception?

Answer: The bride should cut it with the groom. After that, the bride's mother may cut and distribute the remainder, or the guests may be served by the waitress.

Question: Will it be permissible for my father to give me away even though my wedding will be simple and informal with but one attendant?

Answer: It will be permissible for your father to give you away regardless of the simplicity of your wedding.

JOINT INVITATION

Question: My father and I have received a joint invitation to a formal wedding and reception. I am going but he will be unable to go. I know the form for replying to a formal invitation but must confess my ignorance of a proper reply to this joint one. How is it done, please?

Answer: You must reply separately—you sending your acceptance in your name only and your father sending his regret in his name only. Technically speaking, a joint invitation should not be sent to a father and daughter. Each of you should send your reply as if you received an individual invitation.

Question: On first name greeting cards which name should come first—the husband's or the wife's?
Answer: The wife's name should come first—Mary and John Jones; not John and Mary Jones.

Question: Is it ever permissible to refuse a dish at a dinner party?
Answer: At very large dinners it is permissible, but at a small, informal dinner at which there may not be such a large variety and in the preparation of which the hostess may have taken particular pains to please, it would seem inconsiderate and rude to admit that you did not care for her choice of menu. So to avoid this embarrassment, take a small portion of everything on your plate and make a pretense of eating everything offered to you.

Question: Is the finger bowl a "must"? That is, if you feel that you have no need to dip your fingers, must you anyway?

Answer: It is not a "must" but what harm could there be in dipping when the bowl is placed before you? It is merely a formality and not a necessity in this civilized era of eating with silver instead of with our fingers.

DISCUSS CHILD WELFARE

A small delegation of civically minded women met with the county commissioners on Saturday morning for the purpose of discussing the child welfare problem in the county. Some time ago a survey was made of the need here for child welfare work and a number of women wished to follow this survey up with some county financed work to correct conditions they say exist. The commissioners discussed the matter and promised to give it more attention.

BUDGET UPON DISPLAY

If you are interested at all in the manner in which your money will be spent in the next year, county money that is, the budget is now upon display. If this year follows previous years there won't be half a dozen citizens go to the commissioners' office to look over the proposals in the budget.

FIX TRIAL LIST

The trial list was gone over this morning by Judge John G. Lawrence and a tentative schedule adopted for the February term of civil court.

300 MEDALS GIVEN OUT

As of Saturday at noon about 300 World War II medals had been distributed from the office of Veterans Affairs, according to A. Lewis Conn. This seems rather low, considering the length of time the medals have been available and the ease with which they can be secured.

All a veteran has to do is take his discharge to the Office of Veterans Affairs, have it stamped and he gets his Victory Medal and if he rates it, a pre-Pearl Harbor Medal.

Patsy Shelley Is Honored Saturday

Venerable East Side Resident Honored At Fourth Ward Fire Department On 76th Birthday

Saturday will live long in the memory of residents of the Ray street community for two things. One was the big snow, and the other was the 76th birthday of Patsy Shelley, venerable East Side resident.

In honor of the occasion, open house was observed all day, when friends came to congratulate him, partake of a delicious sauer kraut group gathered for ice cream and dinner, and in the evening another cake, prepared by the ladies of the community.

Fourth Ward firemen headed the committee on arrangements, with Doc McBride also helping out with the program of the day.

Patsy received a purse of $35 from his friends, in addition to numerous other gifts, including many packages of his favorite smoking tobacco, shirts, ties, socks, handkerchiefs, etc.

Members of city council and other dignitaries were among those who gathered to pay their respects.

British Will Move To Protect Pound Sterling

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A speculators' rush to "get into gold" hit the London Stock exchange as a result of the French franc's devaluation today and the British government promised all possible measures to save the pound sterling from peril.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps told the House of Commons that the French devaluation is "unfortunate".

Cripps, who is virtual economic dictator, reviewed the situation as the price of gold dipped in Paris coincident with an 80 million dollar gold share rise in London that lopped 400 million dollars off the market value of British government securities.

He said: "The government will take measures to prevent repercussions on sterling as and when it sees fit."

Cabbage palm and cabbage tree are names given in different countries to different species of palm, the largest of which is eaten like cabbage. The southern United States has its cabbage palm or cabbage tree, otherwise called the palmetto.

Police Checking Murder Confession

Charles Lynch, 23, Tells Los Angeles Police He Killed Elizabeth Short

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Police today checked the story of 23-year-old transient Charles Lynch who claims he murdered Elizabeth Short, "The Black Dahlia," during a Marihuana spree. Miss Short's mutilated and dismembered body was found in a Los Angeles lot Jan. 14, 1947.

Used Surgical Knife Lynch, arrested after he called police from a main street bar Saturday night and scoffed at their efforts to capture the killer, told police he killed Miss Short while she slept following their Marihuana jag.

Police quoted him as saying he used a surgical knife he had stolen from the Army's Camp Cook. He allegedly told police he disposed of the knife by rapping it in a newspaper and throwing it in an ash can. Then he hired an automobile and drove the mutilated body to the vacant lot from a hotel room.

Lynch is a former convicted morals offender.

Fellowship Class
Social Gathering

Nominating Committee Appointed:
Pastor Will Be Class Temporary Teacher

Miss Ilene Scheidemantle of 407 Fifth street was hostess Friday evening to members of the McClurg Fellowship Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church. Devotions were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Howard Redmond. During the business session Miss Scheidemantle presided. It was decided Rev. Redmond will be temporary teacher of McClurg class.

Miss Virginia Drumheller, chair-lady; Bill Bollinger and Miss Doris Daugherty were appointed a committee for the nomination of officers for the coming year.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. G. O. Scheidemantle, and Mrs. Ruth McClurg.

Next social meeting of the class will be entertained by Miss Virginia Drumheller at her home, 311 West Madison avenue, Friday evening, Feb. 20.

Crusaders Class
Has Annual Dinner

Members of the Crusaders Bible class, of Madison Avenue Christian church, gathered in the dining room on Friday evening, for their anniversary dinner, with husbands and families as guest. All joined in the invocation.

Several sound movie films were shown. "South of the Border," "National Baseball League Pictures," and "Be Kind to Animals"; Earl Ruehle was in charge of the projector.

Committee in charge of arrangements, Mrs. Lucille Ruehle and Mrs. Helen Wagner.

Next meeting of the class, will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Earl Turk, 811 West Clayton street, in February.

Mahgi Club Plans
Anniversary Dinner

At the home of Mrs. Lenora Smolinski of Lakewood, members of the Mahgi club met recently, with a full attendance.

Cards and reminiscence were the pastime of the evening.

The hostess served a dainty lunch, and she was presented with a hanky shower by the group.

Plans were made to celebrate the 16th anniversary of the organization on February 19 with a dinner at a local tea room.

B.O.G.O.s MEET WITH
MRS. FRANK DOYLE

Members of the B. O. G. O. club were entertained Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Doyle of Morton street.

Contract bridge was the diversion of the evening. Mrs. Paul Humphrey captured the chief prize and Charles Henderson received the door prize.

The hostess was assisted in serving a dainty lunch by Mrs. Robert Doyle.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

SUSPENDER SKIRTS
REGULAR 1.98 VALUE
1.00
Sizes 3 - 4 - 5 - 6

Here they are, the very same skirts that we sell day in and day out for 1.98 and if bought in the regular way, would have to continue at their regular price. But the manufacturer wanted to reduce his first of the year inventory and our buyer naturally scooped up all he could have. They are all part wool, bright plaids in sizes 3, 4, 5 and 6.

ONLY
2.98
and they were made to sell for 5.95 and 6.95
ALL-WOOL SWEATERS

Tomorrow, Fishers blaze the way again with another amazing sweater sale. This time, it is all wool alpines at a smashing low price. Just because our buyer was "Johnny on the spot" when the manufacturer decided to cut his stock. A wonderful array of designs in two and three tones and so pretty we know you will want to buy them all. So hurry in here Tuesday morning for your share.

Will Have Roles
In School Play

Donna Norris Dick McClurg
Donna Norris and Dick McClurg play opposite each other in the coming senior high school play, "Quiet Summer". Donna is cast as Harriet Morgan, daughter of the plutocrat of the neighborhood where the quiet summer becomes unquiet. It is because Harriet assumes that she has the devotion of Billy Henly, played by William McClurg, in perpetual fee, whereas Bill has a normally roving eye that some of the most amusing of the situations in that ironically "quiet" summer occur.

Both Donna and Dick are well known through their participation in school activities. Dick, as member of the student council, helps to run the school. Donna is a member of three organizations: Senatus Romanus, Dofobs and Y-Teens. They are really busy students, but dramatics is a fascinating hobby for them, as for the many others in Miss Hartsuff's class in dramatics.

Donna Vernice Norris is the daughter of J. J. Norris of Summer avenue. Richard Foss McClurg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McClurg of the Mt. Jackson road.

Charlertoi Students Are 'Paying Piper'

CHARLETOI, Pa., Jan. 26.—Some 267 students at Charlertoi high school were paying the piper today.
Beginning at 3:15 p. m. today the students will start a 30-day "detention" for school "delinquency" for their "delinquent" behavior. The students are being punished for their behavior in a basketball game over Monday night, when they defeated their athletic rivals. They'll spend 45 minutes "detention" daily.
The students had declared a "holiday" after Principal D. L. Glunt gave the team a half day off. However, he said the students' walkout was without justification.

Police Report Suspect Admits Eleven Robberies

Jacob R. Miller, Neshannock avenue, today was reported by City Detectives McMullen and Moore and also State police, to having admitted having committed 11 burglaries since July, in and out of the city.

He already has pleaded guilty before Alderman J. C. Kennedy with having robbed the Valentine restaurant recently. He was arrested Friday night by City Police Patrolman Edward Kovach in East Washington street.

He robbed two places twice, according to his alleged confession. His loot amounted to $349, candy and cigarettes and flashlights, according to the alleged confession.

According to authorities he will be charged with the crimes today. A list of his alleged robberies follows:

January 2—Valentine's restaurant, East Washington street, $17.
November 19—Pennzoll station, Wilmington avenue and North Jefferson street; money and cigarettes.
December 11—Anderson's grill, Moravia street; money and cigarettes.

December 11—Cole service station, Moravia street; money.
January 20—Lennhart's service station, Highland avenue; money and cigarettes.

January 20—McKissick's service station, Wilmington avenue; money and cigarettes. This was the second theft there.

State police report he confessed to robberies as follows:
November 12—Atlantic service station, near Cascade Park; money and cigarettes. It was robbed again January 5 of candy and cigarettes.
November 26—Hassimail restaurant, near Cascade Park; money and cigarettes.

January 9—Service stations of Clyde Womack and Asa Gibson, R. D. 5; money from both places.

After his arrest he was taken to the city detective bureau, where he was grilled.

It developed that State police had taken photographs of shoeprints in the snow at the Atlantic Service Station, near Cascade Park. The photos matched up with the shoeprints, and after this he started his confessions, according to police reports.

NEW CASTLE AND COUNTY DIG OUT OF 13 INCH SNOW

O'clock Saturday morning and it kept up steadily until about 11 p. m. Church and Sabbath school attendance Sunday reached a low ebb as folks just holed up for the day.

State Highways Cleared
Twelve large snow plows and two road graders were kept in action over the week-end by the State Highway department to remove the deep blanket of snow from the county roads.

Although it was one of the most hectic week-ends since 1944 when a 12-inch snow fell on December 11, men and equipment of the department kept at the task until the main roads of the highway system were open. It was reported by Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent.

Cinder crews were on the job during the heavy snow storm Saturday but due to the continuous fall of snow the effectiveness of the ashes was lost.

Work was concentrated on the main roads approaching the city with work begun on the secondary roads when the more traveled roads were opened to traffic. Workmen kept at their herculean task until 1 a. m. Sunday and then "knocked off" for a few hours to get some rest. They continued their work at 8 a. m. Sunday and worked throughout the day to complete their task.

Some Drifts Reported
Although drifts resulted in many sections of the county due to the lightness of the snow, only a few instances of roads being blocked by the drifts were reported to the highway garage on the Wilmington road.

According to Mr. Martin, the new highway equipment recently received at the garage aided greatly in the work. With the older equipment, several breakdowns would have occurred and other pieces of equipment would have had to be pulled off other strategic points where they were working.

Township Plows Out
Many secondary or Pinchot type roads were kept open by the use of plows owned by numerous township road departments, it is learned.

The work lessened the burden of the highway department when they got around to those sections.

The snow is being laid back from the berms today by the graders so that it will not blow back on the roads and that use of the berms may be made for necessary stopping along the highways. With the exception of a few little used roads, everything is in fairly good shape, is the report received from the state highway head.

Buses Have Battle
Interurban bus schedules were slightly curtailed due to the heavy snow with most of the buses on Saturday running behind schedule, it is reported by Mrs. Ernest Crawford, manager of the local bus station by the company and that in the Akron, Columbus areas. With the roads open now, buses are coming through on schedule.

Trains Affected
The heavy snowfall and a plummeting thermometer threw schedules off on the three railroads servicing New Castle over the week-end, but despite delays reported on all roads, trains were moving and no accidents were suffered.

The snow, which ranged from 2 to 14 inches, necessitated temporary stoppage to clear tracks but there were no cancellations and passengers and freight went thru although time was lost.

The sub-zero weather also hampered workmen and made normal operation of the systems a greater effort.

County Schools Open
All of the county schools were able to open today. County Superintendent John C. Syling stated this morning, no reports being received by him of any schools that were not able to get going because of Saturday's storm. The storm was a fortunate time for the rural schools, most of the roads being opened over Sunday by highway crews.

City Streets Kept Open
Main thoroughfares of the city were in good passable condition today, despite the heavy snowfall, thanks to the prompt and efficient operation of the city streets department between Saturday and today.

As soon as the snow commenced deluging the city Saturday, Councilman James Gibson dispatched ashing crews to different hills, but the snow fell fast, covering over the ashes.

Mr. Gibson then ordered both the scraper and snow plow into operation. The scraper worked Saturday and Sunday while the snow plow, which started Saturday, is still in operation. The employees of the department worked throughout the period.

In some places where the snow drifted it was found 24 inches deep and in others 18 inches deep.

Councilman Gibson stated today that Trevor Williams, acting commissioner, intended to place snow-removal crews at work this afternoon.

To Show 'Econorama' To Business Group

Willis-Overland President To Demonstrate Economic Principles In Youngstown

Somewhat off the usual line of the meetings of the Economic and Business Foundation, the meetings in Youngstown, January 27 and 28, will feature the "Econorama". The "Econorama" is a set of mechanical devices which show the flow of capital, the effect of supply and demand upon prices, the distribution of the wage dollar and other economic factors.

James D. Mooney, president of the Willis-Overland company, is the inventor and producer of the "Econorama". It has been shown to many audiences and demonstrates in a tangible fashion just what happens to a dollar after it is earned.

The "Econorama" shows what makes prices rise and fall, where the corporation dollar and the pay check dollar go, the relationships of money, production and consumption, the source of funds for the expansion of industry and new employment.

The meetings will be held in the Stambaugh Auditorium with R. J. Wean, president of the Wean Engineering company in charge.

Guests from New Castle, Sharon, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City and other points in the Mahoning-Shenango Valley will attend the meetings.

Some cities are sending delegations of students interested in economics to attend the meetings and the probabilities are a large crowd will attend.

Chicago Teachers Are Seeking Pay, Threaten Walkout

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Chicago's 14,000 public school teachers awaited today's outcome of two city council meetings to determine whether they will be paid for the first time since Dec. 19 or will strike.

The council finance committee was scheduled to meet this morning to consider a $97,972,000 school tax levy covering the teachers' salaries.

A full council meeting was called for the afternoon to act on the committee's recommendation on the levy and the record 1948 school budget of $108,500,000.

Threaten Walkout
Nine thousand members of two teacher groups voted to walk out if the levy was not passed at today's sessions. The strike ballot was taken after the finance committee failed to act on the tax levy last Thursday.

Mayor Martin Kennedy said yesterday he would be "very glad" to act as a mediator between the teachers and council, if asked, in an attempt to avert the threatened walkout.

President John M. Fewkes of the 8,000-member AFL-Chicago teachers union said no union members would report for work if the levy failed to pass. He declared they will report for duty today, however.

Park Avenue Home Damaged By Fire

Defective Chimney Sets Fire To Weatherboarding Of Silverman Home: Other Small Fires

Damage of around $200 resulted from a fire caused by a defective chimney at the home of Jacob Silverman, of 330 Park avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock, Chief James E. Thomas reports.

The weatherboarding on the outside of the house was set afire, burning up the side of the house before it was extinguished.

Several other fires occurred over the week-end. At 11:10 o'clock the morning, Sixth ward firemen were called to the home of Michael Wester, of 300 Sampson street, by a still alarm, when studding, which had been built into the chimney, caught fire.

At 3:40 p. m., Saturday, Fourth ward firemen were called to the home of John Sipes, of 641 John street, where an overheated heater pipe caused alarm to the family.

At 10:10 a. m., Sunday, Fourth ward firemen were called to the home of Martin Lennhart, of 1012 Cunningham avenue, where it was found the furnace was smoking.

Truman Nominates Bradley As Chief

President Sends To Senate Nomination Of Gen. Omar Bradley As Army Chief Of Staff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—President Truman sent to the Senate today the nomination of Gen. Omar N. Bradley to be army chief of staff.

Bradley will succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is retiring from active duty to become president of Columbia University.

The president announced several weeks ago that Bradley would be the new chief of staff when Eisenhower retires. At that time, Mr. Truman shifted Bradley from his post as veterans administrator to the War Department to await Eisenhower's retirement.

Eisenhower, who had been prominently mentioned as a possible Republican presidential nominee, withdrew from the race Friday.

Bradley will take over next month when Eisenhower takes a leave prior to assuming his new post at Columbia University.

Cotton Wardrobe Is Eye Catching

Girls Down South Show Real Aptitude For Making Pretty Dresses Out Of Cotton

By JEAN BUCK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Career girls with a tiny budget, and the ability to sew, today can have a wardrobe that is designed to set fashionable Paris and England on its heels.

It is the all-cotton wardrobe created especially for Miss Matilda Nail, 1948 maid of cotton.

Made from McCall patterns, the wardrobe is not only fashionable, attractive and wearable, it is kind to the pocketbook.

The first showing of the wardrobe was made in Atlanta recently at the fashion show which climaxed the National Cotton Council.

Assisted by Models
Miss Hilma Seay of Memphis, last year's Maid of Cotton, and Miss Katherine Hammrick, Gaffney, S. C., who was this year's runner-up, modeled the wardrobe. They were assisted by five Atlanta models.

These clothes will be worn by Miss Nail, 1948 Maid of Cotton, on her tour of the United States, France and Great Britain as fashion emissary for King Cotton.

A bride's dress of white waffle pique stole the show. It is everything a bride's dress should be, full-skirted, and demure, with a sweetheart neckline. And any bride-to-be with a slim purse could make it for a song. It is made from McCall pattern number 7100.

A simple town costume made of cotton print with a solid jacket caused the men to whistle and the women to remark:

"Now that's what I need to wear to work."

Revealed As Dress
The skirt was a green and white floral print and it turned out to be a dress when the green jacket was removed. The dress is McCall pattern number 6733, the jacket McCall pattern 7190.

Worn with black wide-brimmed straw hat and jacket, it is perfect for town. Remove the hat and jacket and you have a cool-looking, cool-feeling at-home dress.

When Miss Nail models the wardrobe in the world's fashion capital—Paris—she will show French misses the current passion of American girls, the Gibson Girl blouse. A demure high-necked white eyelet blouse, with push-up sleeves captivated the audience. Made from McCall pattern 7196, it is perfect to show off that favorite pin, fastened high at the throat.

Both coal and diamonds are carbon elements, subject to different intensities of heat and pressure.

Elliott Steel Girls' Bowling Team

Pictured here is the girls' duckpin bowling team sponsored by the Elliott Steel company, which competes in the Tri-county Traveling League. First row, left to right: Miss Jane Agnew, Miss Rose Mooney and Mrs. Mary Sullivan. Second row, left to right: Mrs. Virginia Forrest, Miss Ella Phillips and Miss Thelma Phillips.

At the end of the first half of play the local team was tied for third place with Vernon's Gingers of Beaver Falls.

Leading the scorers of the group is Capt. Mooney who is averaging 155. Miss Mooney captured the Greater Pittsburgh women's trophy in 1946 and is considered one of the outstanding female bowlers in the district. Her nine straight strikes in a recent match has highlighted the season play.

Other averages show Mrs. Sullivan with 139, Miss E. Phillips, 140, Miss Agnew, 137 and Mrs. Forrest, 135. Mrs. Sullivan placed second in the Pittsburgh tourney in 1938 and Miss Phillips was third in 1940.

Thelma Phillips, a neophyte playing her first season, has shown great promise and is valuable as a substitute. The team works well together and is confident of finishing high in the league.

This is the first year a local women's team has competed in the tri-county circuit.

Bucky's Comeback Sensational

Bucky Harris, John Mize To Be Honored

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Bucky Harris, manager of the world champion New York Yankees, and Johnny Mize, first baseman of the New York Giants, will be given awards on Feb. 1, and in the case of the former the incident is slightly stranger than fiction.

Harris will receive the Bill Slocum Memorial award for meritorious long service to baseball, at the annual dinner of the New York Baseball Writers on Feb. 1.

Mize will receive, at the same time, the New York chapter's Sid Mercer Memorial award as the player of the year.

Harris reaches this peak of recognition after returning from the vale of forgotten men.

The one-time boy manager of the Washington Senators—and manager of many other clubs before he came to New York—had wended his weary way to Buffalo and seemed destined to finish out his days in the minors, when he was brought back.

Came in 1946

He came to the Yankees as general manager in 1946, and after many conferences and much persuasion finally consented to take over as field manager for last season.

He was perfectly content to stay in the front office, and announced at the time that he was going back to the bench only to rebuild the club, and then would turn it over to somebody else.

He insisted it was strictly stop-gap due to the loss in 1946, through retirement of Manager Joe McCarthy, who since has been signed to manage the Boston Red Sox.

Harris started last season without the services of Joe DiMaggio, who had undergone a foot operation that was slow in healing, and in the middle of the season lost Charlie Keller for the rest of the year.

Others were injured from time to time, his pitching bogged down badly and it looked like no spot for a budding recipient of a high award.

Through it all, Harris pulled the club along to the pennant and then knocked the Brooklyn Dodgers off in the World Series to get back in the spotlight and call attention through his performance to the fact that he is one of the great figures in the game.

Mize earned his recognition by tying with Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the major league home run honors, with 51. He also led in runs batted in and runs scored.

The slugger also set a new major league record when, for the fifth time, he hit three home runs in one game. The previous standard of four also was established by Mize.

The lowest score by which a football team can win a game under the present rules is 1-0 by a forfeit.

Inks 3-Year Pact

Ed McKeever Signed As Rockets' Coach

By CHARLES HINSHIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Ed McKeever, whose coaching history includes jobs at Notre Dame and Cornell, has become the coach of the Chicago Rockets.

He was signed for three years, and whatever he is getting into couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

McKeever's acceptance of the Rocket post was announced simultaneously in San Francisco and Chicago yesterday and confirmed a prediction by International News Service 10 days ago and several times since.

In San Francisco, McKeever disclosed his pact with the Rockets one day after he had announced his resignation as coach at the University of San Francisco.

In taking over as head pilot of Chicago's entry in the All-America Football Conference, the Texan proclaimed himself well-versed in the Rocket prospects, which are nebulous, and in the Rocket history, which is awful.

Sad Season

Briefly, it is to be said that the Rockets have flunked out two years running. Their plight during the past season was such that, at season's end, the All-America Conference took over the franchise.

This franchise has now been bought by a group of Chicago businessmen whose mouthpiece is one R. Edward Garn, a stock broker who had minority dealings as a shareholder of the old Rockets, and who, surprisingly enough, thinks the club can be built into a going concern.

The new Rocket coach began coaching at his alma mater Texas Tech in 1931, and since has been head man at Notre Dame, Cornell and San Francisco. At the latter institution, McKeever's first season—that of 1947—was the finest in the school history, and his contract had two more years to run.

His self-obtained divorce from San Francisco, thereby, leads one to suspect that Garn approached him frontally, with a notable sum of money as a lure.

Pirates To Open Spring Training With 40 Players

Manager Meyer Seeking Hurling Strength: 25 Battery Men On Roster

Pittsburgh baseball club will open the spring training sessions with a full complement of 40 players—the major league legal limit.

It is evident from the roster that manager Billy Meyer is seeking to bolster the Pirate pitching corps for the approaching season, since 19 of the men on the list are hurlers. Although the mainstays of the staff will be veterans led by ancient Fritz Ostermueller, much is expected from the rookies headed by Bob Chernes who won 22 and lost 8 with San Francisco last season. Another promising newcomer is Jim Kleckley, 200 pound right-hander who knocked 20 wins with Spartanburg.

A battle royal is predicted for the first string catching assignment where Ed Fritzel, up from Sacramento, is touted as one of the most brilliant freehand backstops to come up in years. Clyde Klutz and Leroy Jarvis with Vinnie Smith, figure to give the rookie plent of competition for the job.

The Buc infield will sport the "new look" this season with Frankie Gustine the lone hold-over in the inner defense. Pete Castiglione had a brief fling with the club at the tag end of the '47 campaign but the rest are all new faces. Much-ballyhooed is Ed Stevens, strongly-built first baseman, a southpaw, who hit .390 for Montreal and was purchased in the big deal with the Dodgers.

The outfield bristles with talent, headed by Ralph (Strong Boy) Kiner, Johnny Hopp, formerly of the Braves, Dixie (People's Chere) Walker, and Max West, who got another of his numerous cracks at the bat time after a great season with San Diego. Also in the picture are Wally Westlake and Culley Rickard who both did garden duty with the Bucs off and on during the past season.

The roster:

Pitchers

Catchers
Ed Fitzgerald, Bill Herring, Leroy Jarvis, Clyde Klutz, Vincent Smith, Earl Turner.

Infielders
Romanus Basgall, Joe Bockman, Pete Castiglione, Frank Gustine, Dan Murtough, Stan Rojek, Ed Stevens.

Outfielders
Ralph Kiner, John Hopp, Culley Rickard, Dixie Walker, Max West, Wally Westlake, Joe Grace, George Hass.

Williams 14-5 To Take Dawson

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Lightweight Champ like Williams is rated 14 to 5 make it two out of three when he meets Chicago's Freddy Dawson in a scheduled ten-round non-title bout tonight at the Arena.

The Trenton triphammer stopped Dawson easily in their first match four years ago, but gained only a draw in their second meeting in 1946.

Freddy is riding the crest of an eight-bout winning streak—including knockout victories over Australia's light and featherweight champs. But like will be after his 11th straight, and has been pronounced in top form.

Pottery Playing At East Brook

The Shenango Pottery basketball team, winner of the first half of the C-I league at the "Y", will go to East Brook. High tonight with a battle in the offing at the hands of the East Brook Boosters. The Pottery players will meet at 7 o'clock at the "Y" for transportation to East Brook, it was announced by Business Manager Joe Reda.

Thursday night the Pottery has the fast Rochester Legion booked for a game at the "Y" court. The game will start at 8:15 o'clock.

BEARS BEAT BARONS

HERSHEY, Pa., Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Hershey Bears pushed the rough-housing Cleveland Barons around for three periods Saturday night and came up with a 6-1 victory in the Sports Arena.

More than 6400 spectators braved icy, snow-filled roads to witness the tilt, according to Arena officials.

Loop Results At YMCA Floor

Three leagues were active at the Y. M. C. A. floor over the weekend with the following results:

In the House league the New Castle Business college five tripped the Redskins 22-14, the Rebels ran up an identical score on the Wings. The Redskins, in another pairing, beat the Safety Five 28-24 and the Rebels split for the night, losing their second contest to the G. I. Shines, 40-32.

In the Shenango Pottery inter-plant league, Dept. 48 nosed out the 49ers 19-15, and the Handle Shop romped against the Gold Room 44-18, led by DeCarlo with 14 points.

The following results were posted in the junior church circuit: S. S. Alliance 38, First U. P. 22; First Christian 14, First Presbyterian 13; First Baptist 28, S. Paul 21; Croton 19, Epworth 15; Trinity 26, Third U. P. 12; St. George 24, First Methodist 20.

Titans Resume Floor Drills

Westminster Will Battle Geneva Thursday At Floor, Then Head East

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 26.—Westminster's Towering Titans will resume basketball drills tonight after a two-week rest for semester examinations. The Titans will play host to Geneva college on Thursday night.

The Titans will be shooting for their eighth win in 11 starts when they tackle the Covies. Westminster won the first meeting at Beaver Falls in a final period rally after trailing three-quarters of the way.

Will Head East

Following the Geneva encounter the Titans will head east for three games. St. Josephs will be played in Philadelphia on Saturday night, Millersville and Juniata will be played a second time on the road home. Westminster won both first meetings on their home court.

All Washabaugh's men appear to be in top physical condition and ready to go. Jim Spangler, substitute guard from Berlin, Pa., who has shown flashes of top form lately, is nursing a lame arm but is expected to be ready for the Geneva fray. The recent fine play of Jackie Jones has strengthened the team greatly, and also gives Coach Washabaugh four forwards to work in the game.

Pulaskis Card Three Contests

The K. Pulaski "Big Five" will play three games this week, it was announced, starting Tuesday evening with the Butler Moose appearing at the K. P. Hall at 8:15 o'clock.

Thursday the "Big Five" meets the East Liverpool Legion at the East Liverpool floor, in a return game, and Friday will play the Oil City Merchants at the Union High floor in a benefit for the Union Township Volunteer Fire Department.

The Pulaskis-St. Vincent Collegian game at the Arena Sunday was called off due to the heavy snowfall, that made the roads between here and Latrobe very dangerous.

New Castle Club Shoots Tonight

The New Castle rifle will be hosts tonight to the league-leading Beaver Valley team, at The Cathedral range at 8 o'clock, it was announced by Secretary Paul Carrigan.

The Beaver Valley team has the first-half of the league clinched, but the locals hope to be able to upset them this evening. All members are urged to make an effort to attend the shoot.

Church League Games Tonight

Games in the senior Church League tonight at the "Y" find the First U. P. playing the Croton F. P. in the first tilt, the Third U. P. vs. the First Congregational in the second, and the finale will pit the First Baptists against the Epworths.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER (INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—One of the Greatest athletes in the United States is a fellow who looks like Earl Sande in street clothes and like a circus clown when he is fixed up for his act.

Day in and day out he is perhaps the highest paid man on ice skates today.

The highest paid gal in the business is, of course, Sonja Henie, who for the last six years has made a place in her annual ice revue for Fred Trenkler, the amazing comic entrusted with producing the laughs and thrills in the show.

He steals the audience to the last man, woman and child the first time he comes onto the Madison Square Garden ice in the current Henie production.

Then Miss Henie promptly steals the show back when she comes out in her silver-spangled hula number, said by showmen to be one of the greatest hit performances ever seen in any setting, trapped or otherwise. But the head lady needs all her charm, grace, beauty and swivel-jointed wiles to top the iron-muscle little Vienna Zany, who winds up finally running no worse than a dead heat for first honors.

Amazing Tricks

Trenkler, 127 pounds, 35 years old and on skates almost constantly since he was 12 years old, has perfected some tricks which have never been duplicated insofar as he knows.

Going full speed, he raises up on the heels of his skates and skips along in short, choppy hops for 10 feet to stop suddenly within an inch or two of a given spot.

He has another trick which almost defies explanation. In this one he takes a seemingly back-cracking fall and, all in one motion, lands back on the blades of his skates.

"I have spent a lot of time and concentration trying to figure that one out and I still don't know how I do it," he said. "I just somehow hit the ice on my back and land on my feet."

Some of his amazing acrobatics look tough enough to kill a man, but he said it really wasn't tough if you practice often and stay constantly in training. He skates nearly every afternoon, and does an abundance of roadwork. The latter helps the legs, but is mainly for the wind.

Breathing Important

He said:

"Most athletes would have more endurance if they knew how to breathe. In strenuous sports you must time your breathing, and not simply take a deep breath whenever you feel like you need it."

"Try it even when you are walking, and after you have become accustomed to breathing properly you won't tire nearly so fast."

Trenkler expects to go on for another 10 years, unless he falls off the stage again. This happened to him at the Center theater in 1941. He broke his leg and was laid up for the only time in his life. No, he didn't have skates on at the time.

GAME IS CALLED OFF

Stanley Shaw announced today that the Eagles-Shenango "Y" games at the Arena for tonight will not be played. The league is ended, Shaw announced.

Elks To Play Benefit Friday

March Of Dimes To Benefit From Elks-Bellevue Game Friday At Washington Floor

The New Castle "March of Dimes" fund will be benefited by a basketball game that has been arranged by the New Castle Elks team with the strong Bellevue AA Friday at the Washington high floor.

The preliminary game will find the Elks Reserves battling the Shenango "Y" at 7:15 o'clock.

Coach Paul Morrison will have his Elks tuned up for the big benefit contest. Bellevue is coming here highly rated in the Pittsburgh suburban district, with a galaxy of former college and high school stars. The Elks did not play the Oil City Elks Saturday, due to the heavy snow storm and the condition of the highways.

It is hoped that a packed gym will greet the two games Friday as the cause is a very worthy one. Last year the Elks realized quite a nice sum from a similar game.

Frankie Moran In Semi-Final

Frankie Moran of New Castle will box Bob Simms of Homestead in the semi-final of the Lou Vallee vs Irish Mickie Doyle fight in Youngstown on Thursday night, according to Promoter Al Zill. He is making efforts to procure an opponent for Benny Newkirk, also of this city.

At the same time, Fordham stretched its winning streak to 11 in a row by humbling St. Peter's, 67 to 52.

Earlier in the week, N.Y.U. made it 12 straight by dropping Colgate while Rhode Island State was leaving the company of the undefeated by losing to Holy Cross.

Optimists Plan Big Ice Carnival

Cascade Park Lake To Be Site Of Winter Events For Youth Of City

New Castle Optimist club, sponsors of such popular events as the Orange Crate Derby, Marble Tournament and the Model Air plane meet, has made arrangements to stage another big show for boys and girls of the city—an ice carnival, Feb. 13 at Cascade Park lake.

The carnival will be open for all boys and girls of the county 16 years of age or younger, with no age ban on specialty acts.

Annual Affair
It is the aim of the Optimist to make this an annual event with plenty of color and action and handsome awards for the winners are to be presented. The show is being patterned after the famous Modina Legion carnival held annually in Wausau, Wisconsin.

Events will include speed races, figure skating, dancing, comedy and specialty acts. There is no entry fee, neither will there be a spectator admission price.

Entries must be filled out and mailed or brought to Gus' Store, 106 E. Washington street not later than Feb. 1. Joseph Daugherty is chairman of the event with Joe Yackabach handling entries.

Palestine Crisis To Be Presented

Ralph E. Baney, Recently Returned From Palestine, To Speak Here Sunday

Ralph E. Baney, world traveler, author, lecturer and missionary from Palestine and the D. P. camps of Europe will present his lecture with sound motion pictures on "The Palestine Crisis" at the First Methodist church, Sunday, February 1, 7:30 p. m.

The speaker has just recently returned from Palestine and Europe and is now on a brief lecture tour before returning to resume his work in Palestine. Mr. Baney, author of "Behind the Scenes in Nazi Germany" and editor of "The Palestine Pictorial News" is well known throughout the state from his lectures in many of the leading churches and his crusade for Christian work in Palestine.

The film "The Holy Land Passing Parade" which Mr. Baney will show is the most complete and original sound film on Palestine today.

Mr. Baney will show pictures of the work of the mission he represents, the Society of Christian Approach to the Jews in the Bethlehem Clinic—with the victims of leprosy in the Leper Home—with the Bedouin tribes in their goats' hair tents. The public is invited. There will be no admission to this lecture and pictures, but a free-will offering will be received for Christian Missions in the Holy Land.
